THE LATEST NEWS.

Condensed Telegrams from All Quarters.

—Cardinal McCloskey will remain in Paris until the end of the month.

—General Sheridan arrived in San Francisco last evening, and was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

—Owing to a heavy rain yesterday, the extra meeting at Monmouth Park, Long Branch, was postponed till Thursday.

—The Vincennes (Ind.) Times, heretofore Republican, has been purchased by three Democrats, who propose to conduct it as an independent paper.

—There was quite a heavy frost in various locations in Illinois and Iowa last Sunday night. Most of the small vines were killed. Potatoes and corn were more or less injured.

—Guns were fired every half hour at the United States Arsenal at Little Rock, Ark., on Monday, commencing at sunrise and ending at sunset, in memory of Ex-President Johnson.

—The Nebraska Central Narrow Gauge Railroad Company, incorporated on Saturday, propose to run direct westward from Omaha through Douglass, Sanders, Butler and Polk counties.

—In the absence of the Postmaster General and Superintendent Bangs, from Washington, no action has yet been taken in the petition of St. Louis for fast mail communication with New York.

—John Gordon, the Black Hills miner, was turned over to the civil authorities of Omaha on Saturday evening by the advice of the United States District Attorney, and was released on a writ of habeas corpus.

—Killing frosts last Saturday and Sunday nights are reported from several points in Minnesota, destroying corn and other unripe crops. If the frost extended through the State, a large corn crop will be an entire failure.

—John W. Sturdy has been appointed Internal Revenue Gauger in the Fourth District, and Moore C. Blackwell in the Seventh District of Indiana, and Harry H. Mathews Storekeeper in the Sixth District of Kentucky.

—The total amount of canal toll collected on the New York State canals, from the opening of navigation to and including the second week of August, 1875, has been $704,247, and for the same lime last year $1,411,097, showing a decrease of $706,850 thus far this year.

—On Sunday night the old Central House of St. Paul, Minn., was nearly destroyed by fire. This building was the first capitol of the Territory of Minnesota, the first Legislative Assembly of said Territory having been held within its walls. As such it was an old land mark.

—Thomas and Nicholas Moran, who kicked their brother William to death in Cincinnati last Thursday, were released on two thousand dollars bail each, although charged with murder in the second degree. The action of the Police Court authorities causes much unfavorable comment.

—The first bale of new cotton arrived at Memphis on Saturday night from Arkansas, and the second bale reached there on Sunday from Delta, Miss. They were both sold on 'Change at auction for thirty-six cents per pound, classing "low middling." Last year the first bale was received on the 13th of August.

—A Canton (O.) dispatch says the roof and contents of the upper story of Ball's reaper works was burned on Monday. The remainder of the building was saved in a damaged condition. The contents of the floor burned consisted of patterns, which were entirely consumed. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

—John T. Taylor, late postmaster at Lacygne, Kansas, has been held to bail on a charge of robbing the mails. The case attracts a great deal of attention all over Kansas, Ohio and Iowa, from the fact that Taylor is the grandson of an ex-President. He was on the staff of General Sherman during the war. His friends believe him innocent.

—The Kansas Central and Black Hills Narrow Gauge Railroad Company, with a capital of one hundred thousand dollars, has been organized in Omaha. The road will be built at once from that city through the agricultural country south of the Platte river, and will be pushed toward the Black Hills as soon as the development of that region warrants.

—The Board of Directors of the Christian County (Kentucky) Agricultural and Mechanical Association has invited Jeff Davis to deliver an address at the eleventh annual meeting, which commences on October 6th. Mr. Davis was born in Christian county, and a likely desire to review the associations of his youth will go far towards inducing him to accept.

—The Kansas City Times has information of the killing of Colonel Wheeler, a wealthy Texas cattle dealer, by cattle thieves. Thieves ran off some four or five hundred of his cattle from his ranche in Texas, and he, with four herders, started in pursuit, hoping to get reinforcements, but came upon the thieves before obtaining assistance, and in a fight was killed.

—Advices from thirteen counties in different parts of Wisconsin show that there was a frost on Sunday morning and a heavy frost on Monday morning. Corn suffered great damage, and reports come from some places that three-quarters of it is killed. Tobacco, of which there is a large acreage in Keokuk and Jefferson counties, is totally destroyed. Hops, buckwheat, potatoes and all vines on low lands are badly injured. The weather was cold and the prospect good for another frost last night.

STATE BREVITIES.

David M. Trainor, a young man about fifteen years of age, was arrested in Jefferson county, on Thursday last, on a charge of horse stealing, preferred by Mr. Oscar Whitehill, of Limestone township, Clarion county.

Tuesday morning, in Stratton's saw-mill, at Evansville, twelve miles west of Meadville, Charles Wiser, aged 16 years, was starting the elevator belt, when he became entangled and was thrown upon the saw. One leg and one arm were sawn off, and the body cut in twain.

An affray occurred at Lickingville camp ground, Clarion county, on Saturday evening last, between John Hidinger and Arch Dougherty, during which Dougherty shot Hidinger. The ball struck Hidinger in the side near the heart, but glanced on one of the ribs, lodging just under the skin. The bullet was extracted by Drs. McCormick and Smith. At last accounts Hidinger was lying in a critical condition.

On Saturday morning last, a little boy, son of Mr. John Smith, a farmer, living about four miles from Meyersdale, was kicked by a horse and badly, it is feared seriously injured. The father of the lad was engaged in cutting wood near at hand, and was so enraged at the horse that he threw his axe at the animal, striking it on the leg and cutting the limb badly. Boy and horse were at last accounts both in a critical condition.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Republican Convention of Clarion county met in Clarion on Monday last and placed in nomination the following excellent ticket: State Senate, William P. Finley; Prothonotary, M. Arnold; Register and Recorder, Samuel H. Clarke; District Attorney, John B. Patrick; Treasurer, J. B. Gwinn; Commissioners, Captain V. Phipps and William C. Huey; Auditors, A. L. Seigworth and H. Torrence.

Following is the ticket nominated by the Democracy of Bedford county: Associate Judge, S. B. Kochendarfer; Prothonotary, H. D. Tate; Register and Recorder, S. B. Amos; Treasurer, Louis Saupp; Commissioners, M. Hillegass and Samuel Bender; Poor Director, Samuel Steele; Coronor, Isaac Elder; Auditors, S. B. Lehman and J. J. Walter; Sheriff, Abraham Egolf; District Attorney, J. M. Reynolds.

Oberlin College Graduates.

Oberlin College graduates this year a class of thirty-six students, only one of them a lady. About a third of the young men propose to enter the ministry. From the reports of the President and Treasurer, it appears that during the past year "Council Hall" has been finished and furnished at an expense of about $68,000. The expenditures of the college exceed its receipts, the surplus being made up by friends. This is owing in part to the fact that some of the resources are not available at present.

CORRESPONDENCE.

WEST POINT.

A Pittsburgher at the National Military School.

Observations in the Various Departments—The Cadets, Their Uniforms and What they have to do—The Percentage of Successful Ones—Allegheny County Boys—A Word About Hazing.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 16, 1875.

Your correspondent at West Point arrived on yesterday afternoon, and without any circumlocution we proceed at once to give your readers a few notes of the appearance of things in general at this noted place. This historic as well as romantic spot is located on the west bank of the Hudson river, about fifty two-miles above New York City, and for beauty of mountain scenery is rarely equaled. The government lands, on which the Academic buildings are located, embrace nearly one thousand acres, so we were told by one of the officers of the institution, and with the exception of about one hundred acres, are very mountainous and wild. On the top of West Point proper is a very beautiful plain, the south side of which is occupied by the Academic buildings, while on the west side are located the residences of the Professors and officers in charge. A large hotel for the accommodation of visitors to the cadets and pleasure seekers generally is situated on the North side of this plain, and the encampment of the cadets is on its eastern borders. A carriage drive of one mile in length and of great beauty encircles the central portion of the plain, which is divided into two parts, one for artillery drill, very hard and gravelly, and the other a lawn, as soft as carpet and level as a floor. Each of these two divisions contain from twenty-five to thirty acres, and are admirably adapted to the purposes for which they are used.

The Buildings.

The buildings are made of cut stone, and are very substantial but, like all other government buildings are too massive, presenting the appearance somewhat of prisons rather than enclosures for educational purposes. They are very extensive, however, embracing lodging rooms for the Cadets, academic rooms, mess hall and culinary department, library, museum or trophy rooms, gymnasium, adjutants' office, hospital, riding hall, quartermasters' department, chapel, drawing and art rooms, &c., &c. We will not pretend to give a full description of all these departments, for indeed any one of them would furnish sufficient material for a newspaper article. Two or three of them only will be mentioned. The museum or trophy room as it is called, is filled with curiosities that have been obtained from different points in the United States and elsewhere. Scores of battle flags are there, some of which were captured during the Mexican war, the war of the revolution and other wars of more recent date. The first cannon fired in the late rebellion is there, together with every imaginable kind of small arms. Another curiosity worthy of note is a miniature model of the silver mine of Valenciana in Guanaxuato, Mexico. It was originally designed as a present to the Pope at Rome, and cost three thousand dollars. It is a model piece of art.

Description of the Chapel.

The chapel where devotional exercises are held, would be rather neat and pleasant if it were not so massive. In the rear of the pulpit is perched a full spread American eagle. Immediately beneath the eagle is a blue banner with the inscription "God and our Country." Then above the eagle and behind it on the wall is the inscription "Righteousness Exalteth a Nation, but Sin is a Reproach to any People." On either side of the eagle the pulpit is very tastefully draped with the American flag. The walls of the chapel are ornamented with tablets bearing the names of departed heroes. All these things taken together combine, with the massive style of architecture, to give the chapel a very stern and military bearing. Every cadet is compelled to go to church on Sabbath morning. It is optional with them, however, whether they go either to Bible class in the afternoon or to prayer meeting in the evening. The library, drawing rooms, Mechanical department, as well as all the other departments, are replete with interesting features. All the buildings, as also the grounds, are kept in the best condition.

The Cadets.

And what shall we say of them in the way of praise that will be extravagant. We know of no terms too strong to express our admiration of them in every regard. They are divided into four classes. The first, which will be the graduating class next June, contains fifty members. Young Dravo, of Pittsburgh, a fine looking fellow, is in this class. His successor, young Leonheiser, has been recently appointed. The second class contains seventy-nine members and is now home on furlough. The third contains sixty-two members, and the fourth, which entered in June last, contains ninety-nine members at present. I will say a word in regard to the fourth class, which is simply the history of every class that enters at West Point. One hundred and forty-five members reported and forty-four of this number failed on examination to be admitted. They, of course, had their trip for nothing. Two of the hundred and one admitted have since resigned, not being willing to submit to the close discipline, thus leaving ninety-nine members. One of the officers informed your reporter that probably not more than fifty or sixty of this class would be present on graduation day. Thus you see out of one hundred and forty-five how few are able to get through, and this is no exception, because I was informed that this class is quite up to the average in ability. Young Johnston, of Allegheny City, one of her brightest and most noble boys, is in the fourth class, and it will probably not be out of place in this connection to state that your reporter visited the Adjudant's office and examined the demerit book, which is open to public inspection, and there found that our Allegheny boy is one of the very few of the new class who had not yet received a single demerit.

The Discipline.

The discipline seems to be close. Everything must be done right on time. It will not do to be a second late, or the demerits from four to six will be recorded against you, and if seventy-five are against you at the first of January next, you will be sent home, and if once found, as they call it, your career is for ever ended at West Point. It can not be understood by one who has never visited West Point, how easily these demerits are obtained. The least little thing is sufficient to do it; a speck on your shirt collar, belt-buckle, gun or any of your equipments will give you several demerits. If you are a few seconds behind time, not a quarter of a minute, you will be demerited.

The Uniform.

The cadets are all dressed in white, heavy duck pants, white gloves, regulation shoes, gray coat with small pigeon tail, blue cap and white belt with brass clasp in front, also white shoulder strap, the same width as belt, to which the cartridge box and bayonet-scabbard are attached. The entire dress must fit closely to the skin. The only variation from this dress is in artillery drill; the coat is changed for a close fitting roundabout and in very warm weather a white roundabout of the same material as the pants is worn to meals. The most beautiful sight we ever saw is two hundred of these young men in a battalion, dressed in spotless white, going to the mess hall. Their fine physical development, their graceful carriage and unanimity of movement all conspire to make up a living picture of rare beauty.

The morning parades are witnessed by scores of spectators who are stopping at summer resorts in the vicinity. These parades are very grand, and are managed with the exactness of clock-work. The entire battalion executes the different movements and commands with the unanimity of one man. The cadets are generally good-looking, and, if we may judge from what we saw, they seem to be the pets of the fair ladies of New York and other Eastern cities.

Hazing.

Since our arrival we made the acquaintance of young Irwin, whose name appeared lately in the Pittsburgh papers as being the victim of a hazing party, and who, by the way, stabbed one of the hazers with his bayonet. The unfortunate hazer was tried, found guilty and suspended, but his sentence has since been revoked by President Grant, and he has been reinstated under very severe restrictions. This, it is thought, will put an end to the hazing business, for a while, at least. Irwin is from Alabama, is a very fine-looking young fellow, and a graduate of Davidson College. He and the young man with whom he had the encounter were and are still warm personal friends, and on intimate terms with each other, but Irwin won't allow any one to fool with him while on duty. The letter of President Grant, reinstating the hazer, was publicly read on parade, and in the presence of about two hundred spectators. It said that this case should not be considered a precedent at all, for that hereafter all cadets found guilty of hazing would be summarily dismissed from the service and not reinstated under any considerations. In the present instance the restrictions were imposed by the President himself, and they are that the young man shall not leave his tent, except under guard, during the continuance of the encampment, which lasts until the 28th inst., and that during the ensuing academic year he shall not leave his room except under guard.

Closing Notes.

The officers of the institution, so far as we could observe, are very dignified, courteous, reserved and decided.

We had almost forgotten to mention another very important feature of the institution—the brass band, composed of forty pieces. They make soul-stirring music generally, but on Sabbath morning at inspection the music was, for the most part, very plaintive and sad, making the occasion rather solemn and impressive.

In conclusion I will take the opportunity of saying that our impressions of West Point are very good, but let none of our boys go there with the expectation of having a good time. There is no play there; it is all a solid reality. All triflers and indolent students are disposed of very summarily. I would say also to those who write letters to the cadets, don't feel disappointed if you are not answered promptly. The cadets are always glad to hear from their friends and would be pleased to answer, but they have work for every hour in the day and plenty of it too. When you get impatient, therefore, about not getting an answer to your letter just sit down and write another and don't fell disappointed if it is not answered either. J. M.

CAMP GALLAGHER.

Stray Notes From a Correspondent—The Closing Exercises in the Camp.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

Monongahela City, Aug. 23, 1875.

This place is well adapted for camp purposes, the people being religiously disposed, as the number of churches would indicate, and besides strictly temperate, and the men have therefore little opportunity for over-indulgence.

The remainder of our Pittsburgh military were present in force yesterday. Captain Denny McKnight, of the "Alibagam-Patsey Moran" company of the Duquesne Greys; Captain Lew. Brown, Captain G. L. Braun, Tom Conlon, Sargeants Spealman and Warnock, Lieutenant Harry Denny, and other well known members of the Duquesne Greys; Captain McGill is also here. Captain W. W. Tyson, Colonel N. M. Smith, Crosby Gray, and other prominent members of the G. A. R. are here. R. B. Petty, J. G. Battelle, John O. Petty, and James K. Case spent yesterday in camp. The regiment was inspected yesterday by General A. L. Pearson and Colonel Moore.

The grand military hop, gotten up by some of the officers of the regiment, was a first-class affair in every particular, and was a grand success. Through the kindness of Captain J. D. V. Hazzard and Lieutenant Bowman, both of the Monongahela Light Guard, the fine and spacious armory of the company was furnished for the purpose. The elite of the town, with the beauty and grace of the Pittsburgh ladies, mingling with the magnificently arrayed soldiers, presented a grand spectacle. All enjoyed themselves immensely. The dress parades of the Post have been attended by very large crowds and favorably received. There was a fire in camp last night, one of the tents of Co. I being consumed by fire. Some of the clothing and accoutrements of the men were burned. It is not known whether the fire was the result of an accident or the design of some malicious person.

The companies this morning selected three men each for target practice, which took place on the banks of Dry Run. Capt. J. D. V. Hazzard, Major J. B. Steen and Lieut. Large acting as judges. The prize was a silver mounted revolver, and was won by 1st Sargeant Scott, of Captain Perchment's Company. The various companies are having their pictures taken. Blank catridges have been prepared, and a sham battle is to take place between the companies. This completes the list of the various duties performed by the regiment. The company will break camp as early as possible Tuesday morning. The success of the camp is, in a great measure, due to the untiring efforts of such men as the Hazzards, and it is the opinion of the soldiers that the city is not worth taking without a Hazzard. B.

LOCKPORT.

A Pleasant Pennsylvania Railroad Village—A Valuable Mineral Spring.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

Lockport Station, Pa.,
August 15, 1876.

Though we have never been introduced to the public through the columns of your paper, or, for that matter, through any paper, we feel that ours is not the most insignificant village that may be seen by travelers along the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, on which we are situated. To those unacquainted with Lockport we would say that it is located nearly half way between Altoona and Pittsburgh; being 57 miles from the former, and 60 miles from the latter place. Gardner Bros., manufacturers of fire clay gas, retorts, fire, brick, etc, whose office is in our city, have their works here. They manufacture almost every thing that is made of fire clay, and ship their manufactures to all parts of the United States and Canada.

Seekers of health and pleasure from Pittsburgh and other cities, passing through our village en route to Cresson and Ebensburg, the mountain watering places, are doubtless unaware of the fact that in our hills, scarcely a mile from the railroad, we have mineral water, which for its wholesomeness, cannot be excelled, if indeed, equaled, by either Cresson or Bedford. The spring is commonly known as the "Alum Spring," on account of being strongly impregnated with alum, as well as iron and sulphur. We know persons who can attest to the virtue of the water for both internal and external use, who have themselves been benefited by using it. One person, who for two years has been afflicted with sore eyes, and who recently began bathing them in this water, now rejoices in greatly improved eyes and sight, and avers that he never applied anything to them from which he derived greater benefit. A gentleman from Corona, Long Island, who recently visited this place, was so impressed with the idea that the water possesses great medicinal properties, that he filled a jar with the water, and took it to New York, to have it analyzed, the result of which, we have not yet heard.

Another interesting fact in connection with this place is, that it contains the famous old stone aqueduct through which the Penna. Canal crossed the Conemaugh river. The old aqueduct is a piece of sound workmanship, and is now used as a bridge. It is a bridge that seems likely to serve another generation without repairs.

The Lockport Base Ball Association, of which Jno. Covode Reed, grandson of the late "Honest John," is chairman, gives an entertainment on East Common every evening between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock. The games are very interesting; and both batting and fielding do honor to players; but a little less noise would do. CHIR.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The fallacy of the statement that animals prefer green food was abundantly shown the other day at Chicago, when a hungry horse bit a large section out of the Panama hat of a succulent young man who was sitting on the taffrail of a street car and did not harm a hair of the wearer's head.

A tramp called at a house in Norwich, Connecticut, the other day, and, after being fed, asked if the man of the house was at home. "No," was the reply, "but I'll let you know mighty quick that the woman of the house is at home," and, taking down an old sword, she started for him, but he escaped.

There is a good deal of scribbling by the able editors who mix their brains with small beer, stirred with a cigar, about the contrast between the punishment of Col. Valentine Baker and the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. We have not understood that Mr. Beecher was accused of violence, and the lady at any rate did not testify against him.—Cincinnati Commercial.

In an account of his adventures in the upper Nile, Colonel Long, of the Egyptian Army, says that the black King of Niam-Niam decapitated thirty of his subjects in honor of the visitor, who also accepted a girl as a royal gift. Through an interpreter she said: "I want very much to go with you, but it must be on the condition that you will not eat me." The Colonel said he wouldn't eat her on any consideration.

The Bishop of Porto, in Portugal, has come out in a thundering epistle against the dogma of infallibility, as being contrary to God's teachings, to the supremacy of the Church, and an attack on the rights of the people. He is also down on the Immaculate Conception from the fact that every born creature was tainted with original sin, excepting Christ alone in his capacity of the Second Person of the Trinity. The miracles of Lourdes, Salette, &c., he brands as cheats, and the commands of the Syllabus to the faithful to disobey all earthly governments are set down as the greatest injuries that could have been inflicted on the Catholic religion.

The Jewish Messenger thinks that "American Judaism ought to celebrate the Centennial in a becoming way, so that there will be a living record of our sense of happiness and gratification that the first hundred years of our republic have witnessed the emancipation of Israel everywhere—the abandonment of the Ghetto—the deliverance from Roumanian bondage—freedom in Russia—in Persia—in Africa. Then to raise these brethren freed from political slavery, and enable them to enjoy the privileges and meet the responsibilities of freedom without passing through the friendless struggle of a generation."

Verdict on the Abbottsford Disaster.

In delivering the judgment in the Abbottsford investigation, the Court of Inquiry said they were perfectly satisfied the vessel was in good order, and that the general character and conduct of the officers were perfect, and all that could be desired by critical owners or the most critical public. The vessel made the journey safely until near Holyhead, and then in a very few hours was lost on the coast of Anglesy. Every precaution seemed to have been taken. All that prudence dictated, and all that the printed rules for the guidance of the officers required, had been taken. Soundings were made regularly, and as the weather thickened a constant and doubtless vigilant and efficient lookout had been preserved. Still, the vessel was finally lost on a summer's day, in a fog, and it remained for the court to ascertain the cause, as far as possible. They were unable to accept the theory of a sudden disturbance of the compass, but thought, when an observation was taken after leaving Holyhead, there was some gross error of calculation. They were of the opinion that the loss of the vessel was due in the first instance to the master's having misjudged the distance from Holyhead, and they also thought that sufficient allowance was not made for the force of the tide, especially during several times the vessel was slowed, or stopped, for soundings. There had been mistakes deserving censure. They could not say that, considering the state of the weather, after passing Holyhead, it was prudent to proceed at the speed at which the vessel did, though the loss of the vessel could not be attributed to that cause. The captain's certificate would be returned to him.

The Grain Markets.

London, August 23.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the grain market, says the wheat crop in Great Britain has been gathered in much better order then was expected. Prices generally yielded 1a2 shillings, and in some cases 2a3 shillings. New samples look well in comparison with those of last year, with less acreage and diminished yield. The Paris market also felt the beneficial effect of the weather, the price of flour having declined 2 shillings per sack. In many parts of France the harvest has been gathered, but in no section will it be anywise like that of last year. Accounts from the continent differ somewhat, but all agree upon the fact that violent local storms, with unusually large hailstones, doing immense damage, have visited France, Belgium and Holland. Prices are but little changed on the continent generally. In Germany the markets are firm.

THE GEORGIA SCARE.

Alleged Confession of a Negro—The Governor Promises to Preserve the Peace.

Augusta, Ga., August 23.—Several prominent negroes connected with the troubles in the counties below here have made confessions. Jake Mooreman, First Lieutenant of a negro company, testifies on oath that nineteen counties were to be embraced in the insurrection. Last Friday was appointed for the uprising. All white men and ugly white women were to be killed. Pretty white women were to be spared, and the land and spoils to be divided among the negroes. All who have so far confessed testify substantially the same as Jake Mooreman. Gov. Smith arrived this afternoon from Waynesboro. He is determined to preserve the peace, enforce the laws and do justice to whites and blacks.

Governor Smith was serenaded to-night, and made a speech to a large concourse of people. He said there was serious cause for apprehension of an insurrection in the disturbed counties, but owing to the timely and prudent action of the whites all danger has passed. The great mass of colored people really knew nothing of the gravity and danger of the plot into which they were being led by a few bad negroes. He counseled prudence and forbearance. All men, white and black, shall be protected in their rights of person and property. He would see to it that peace and order and good government were preserved by a rigid enforcement of the laws. The courts were open, and all violators of the peace would be tried and punished. There was no reason to apprehend any further infraction of the peace. He will offer a reward of five hundred dollars for the arrest of General Morris, the leader of the recent troubles.

It is reported that a colored man was killed in one of the counties. The Governor says he will offer a reward for the arrest of the murderers if the report proves correct.

The Indian Agency Investigation.

Cheyenne, Wy., August 23.—A commission, consisting of Gov. Fletcher, Mr. Harris Faulkner, Prof. Atherton and Senator Howe, to investigate the affairs at the Red Cloud and Spotted Tail Agencies, are all here. They took the testimony of over one hundred witnesses during their absence, including officers and attaches at Ft. Laramie and Red Cloud, visited the cattle herds of contractors. While the commissioners are disposed to be reticent, the impression left on the minds of the people with whom they conversed is that the charges against the agents and contractors were based on hearsay, and have not been substantiated. Their official report will soon be made public.

Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

Chicago, August 23.—The report of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad for the year ending May 31 shows that the gross earnings were $12,707,726.51, or 12.14 less than last year, and the operating expenses were $7,557,693.14, or 15 4-10 per cent. less than last year. The net earnings are $1,366,167.54. During the year 116 miles of steel track were laid. The decrease in earnings is mainly due to the operation of the Potter law and similar enactments, and a general depression of business. The new year opens with improved prospects, owing to the hopes of a good harvest and the repeal of vexatious legislation.

Welcome to the American Rifle Team.

A Procession and Speeches at City Hall.

New York, August 23, 1875.

Three Men Shot.

James Langdon, who was shot dead in a lumber yard in Fifteenth street, is believed to have been shot by a man whom he had robbed of his watch. The killing of Langdon was followed by the shooting of two men by the detective, who was searching for the murderer.

Welcome to the American Team.

The military early formed a line preparatory for the public welcome of the American International Rifle Team. At City Hall the flags of the nation and State were flying, and flags were also disposed in folds about the cupola and festooned across the balcony above the porch. In the rotunda there were two circles of small flags. In the Governor's room there was no preparation besides the festooning of new national flags in the windows and two to three State flags and regimental guideons about the walls and over the door ways.

About two o'clock the team were driven up to City Hall in carriages, through an open space including the width of the place. On their arrival they were received with three ringing cheers by the crowd. They then alighted and marched by pairs to the Mayor's private office, Col. Gildersleeve and Gen. Shaler leading the line.

After ten minutes of informal conversation and hand shaking with the Mayor, the party adjourned to the Governor's room. The crowd passed after, and in a few moments the reception room and corridor and stairway were uncomfortably packed. The party arranged themselves in a semi-circle, when, after a brief pause, Gen. Shaler introduced the team, and Mayor Wickham welcomed them home in a brief speech. At the close of his address he shook hands with all the members of the rifle team.

Col. Gildersleeve, in reply, hoped that the Mayor and friends who had tendered them a reception would accept their sincere thanks. They had gone away with some friends, and returned to find many. The place he was in should inspire him to give thanks in fitting terms, but inspiration failed him. He spoke of the warmth of the team's reception in Ireland, and said that the title of American citizenship had been a passport everywhere abroad.

At the close of the proceedings in the Mayor's office, a military and civic procession was formed. The team and invited guests took their places in the procession, and under the escort of the Twenty-second, Sixty-ninth and Twelfth Regiments marched up Broadway over the prescribed route to the Army and Navy Club, where a banquet was given, at which speeches were made by members of the team and the club. The progress up Broadway was an enthusiastic one, and notwithstanding a drizzling rain, many spectators crowded the sidewalks to honor the return of the riflemen. Many buildings along the line of march were gaily decorated with the national colors, and at the approach of the procession enthusiastic cheers were given, and continued until it had passed.

Gilmore's immense concert garden was crowded to-night on the occasion of a special musical reception to the American rifle team. Just inside the Madison avenue entrance were suspended four American flags, four union jacks, and four Irish flags. The team entered amid the cheers of the vast audience, and occupied two alcoves especially reserved for them. The first part of the programme was then performed by the band, consisting of a march triumphal, introducing "See, the Conquering Hero Comes." After the performance of a number of operatic airs, the team took a position on the music stand, and General Shaler introduced General Sharpe, who delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by Col. Gildersleeve.

The remainder of the musical programme, including Irish and American airs, was then carried out, and the audience dispersed. The trophies won by the Americans were exhibited at the upper end of the garden, and at the lower end were posted up the names of the victors, with diagrams of the scores each made at Dollymount.

The Turn Fest.

The Turner Societies, numbering about three thousand men, paraded through the streets to-day, and afterwards took cars and steamboats for Jones' Woods. The festival in the woods will be continued three days.

The Attempted Murder of Mr. Noe.

A number of persons have been arrested in connection with the attempted murder of Mr. James H. Noe in his store, 273 Greenwich street, on Sunday morning. One of them, John Moore, alias Billy Boston, is said by Mr. Noe to resemble his assailant.

CHICAGO'S FINANCES.

Certificates of Indebtedness Being Paid.

Chicago, August 23.—Comptroller Hayes has remitted $850,000 to pay Chicago certificates of indebtedness maturing at the American Exchange Bank, New York, September 1st. This remittance included, he has paid since the first of the month over $1,500,000 of certificates, and issued $122,000, reducing the amount outstanding $883,000, with a balance in the treasury of $500,000, and nothing of consequence maturing before the 1st of November. Mr. Hayes says the taxes are coming in well, and he does not anticipate any serious difficulty in the finances of the city in consequence of attempts made to create public feeling by parties who have temporarily defeated judgment against their lands for unpaid taxes. The amount is not large enough to be embarrassing, and the stringent measures about being resorted to, by levying on personal property and attaching the estates of defaulting non-residents, will compel payment from these defaulters and secure an easier settlement of taxes.

Base Ball.

Chicago, August 24.—Chicagos, 13; Bostons, 11.

St. Louis, August 24.—Athletics, 3; Browns, 2.

Little Rock, August 23.—The Riversides, of Memphis, champions of Tennessee, and Accidentals, champions of Arkansas, played a match game of base ball this evening at the Fair Grounds, resulting in a victory for the Riversides. Score—27 to 18.

Daring Stage Robbery.

Metapedia, Canada, August 23.—A daring robbery was committed on Friday night on the Metapedia road. A passenger on the stage, when near Assemetguagen, presented a revolver at the driver's head, ordering him to stop. He then compelled the driver to cut the mail bags and jump off, when the robber drove off with the stage.

Marine News.

London, August 23.—The steamships City of Chester and Suevia, from New York, have arrived out.

AMUSEMENTS.

Fifth Avenue Comedy Theatre.

The second week of the season was inaugurated at this house last night, and it was gratifying to observe the number of ladies in attendance. This is the best evidence that Mr. Ryan, the Director of Amusements, is fulfilling his promise to present nothing but first-class entertainments, that all who attend can thoroughly enjoy. The style of performances given at the Comedy is bound to become popular with the masses, and why not? In England, in France, and, to a degree, in New York, vaudeville entertainments are speedily stepping to the front rank in the world of amusements. There is a genuine love for humor, however latent in some cases, existing among the American people, and where can that penchant be better gratified than at a vaudeville, or, as Mr. Ryan chooses to Anglicise the word, a comedy theatre? What a relief it is from the routine of daily cares and business to step into just such a pleasant and carefully conducted house as that of which Mr. Ryan is now the director. At the Comedy something will be found to please all. The management should be encouraged in its effort to make vaudeville performances popular in this city, and that Mr. Ryan is proving successful in this particular is evident. Drop in this evening and take the ladies with you, and you can rest assured that they will be highly delighted with the very enjoyable performance offered. To-morrow afternoon the regular Wednesday matinee.

Trimble's Varieties.

Large audiences, and highly delighted ones, too, are nightly consequences at this house. Nor is this to be wondered at, as Manager Aims is presenting to our people one of the best variety shows ever given in this city. High salaries never interfere with him in securing the best talent the market affords in his line. A list of the artists appearing this week will be found in our advertising columns. The programme for this evening is a most attractive one, comprising a succession of novelties. If you have the blues and desire relief in the shape of a dozen or two wholesome rounds of laughter, go to Fred Aims' Varieties and you will be sure to accomplish your purpose. An attracive entertainment is offered for this evening. Matinee on Wednesday afternoon as usual.

Excursion.

The excursion organized by the Messrs. Rupert, to Niagara Falls and return, promises to be a most successful affair. Mr. Rupert, Sr., assures us that every precaution has been taken to fulfill every promise. It is contemplated to make the trip to Niagara from this city in eight hours—certainly good enough time. Thirty-two hours, sleeping time included, will be spent at the Falls, and at the termination of the forty eight hours after leaving here the train is expected to be back in the Union Depot. The Ruperts have have had great experience in arranging trips of this nature, and we doubt not the excursion of Thursnext will be as pleasant a one as any of its predecessors. See advertisement for further particulars.

THE PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN.

Business Meeting Yesterday—An Outdoor Meeting Last Night.

Yesterday morning a business meeting of the Prohibitionists was held at the Alliance Rooms, Mr. Thomas H. Rabe presiding.

Mr. Rabe reported that a number of the States are organizing for the Prohibition work, and Mrs. Gormly gave an encouraging account of last week's meetings in the city.

All the Prohibition workers were, on motion, placed on the Executive Committee.

The proposed excursion to Chautauqua was abandoned, and a proposition to hold the Convention in this city in September laid over.

Mr. McKee tendered the use of a hall, No. 940 Penn avenue, for meetings, and a committee was appointed to arrange a mass meeting for Thursday evening.

Letters of acceptance from several of the candidates nominated on the Prohibition ticket were received and filed.

Last night an out-door meeting was held in front of City Hall, Allegheny. Previous to the meeting the Young Mens' Wide-awake Club, with uniforms and torches and headed by a brass band, paraded the principal streets and escorted the speaker of the evening, Rev. Dr. R. Audley Browne, of New Castle, to the place of meeting.

At eight o'clock the meeting was organized with Gen. F. H. Lane as Chairman and a full list of Vice Presidents comprising ladies and gentlemen.

Gen. Lane, in a brief speech, introduced Dr. Browne, who is the Prohibition candidate for Governor. The reverend gentleman for about an hour and a half discussed the political situation from the Prohibition standpoint. The burden of his remarks was that the Prohibitionists could not trust either of the two political parties now in the field and hence were compelled to organize a party for themselves and go into the fight under their own banners. The speaker dwelt at length upon this idea and spoke earnestly and forcibly. At the conclusion of his address the meeting adjourned. The wideawakes subsequently paraded through some of the principal streets of Pittsburgh.

PERSONAL.

Robert Dale Owen never mentions spiritualism in his ravings.

Capt. Bogardus, the champion pigeon shooter, has arrived at New York.

Abram Simmonds, of Pinehall, N. Y., killed his daughter on Saturday, and then himself.

Wm. S. Shipman, assignee of Duncan Sherman & Co., N. A. Cowdrey, Samuel L. M. Barlow and W. W. McFarland, of New York, have justified as sureties in $500,000 each.

W. B. Greenlaw, President of the Memphis & Little Rock Railroad, and of the Peoples' Insurance Company, of Memphis, died of dropsy of the heart at Greenlawn, Tenn., Monday morning. He was about sixty years of age.

J. H. McVicker, who has been with Edwin Booth since his accident, at Coscob, Conn., writes of the invalid: "All fear of bad results has, we hope, passed, as no dangerous symptoms have appeared. He will need quiet for some ten days to allow the rib to knit; then he will be able to walk with his arm in a sling, and must trust to time for a perfect cure."

The Brooklyn Union says: "Duncan, Sherman & Co. have used up their whole capital in fashionable living. The head of the house, William Butler Duncan, has spent not less than $75,000 per year; his two partners have helped the doubling of that sum. These and other demands of fashion have in ten years called on the house for an outlay of over $2,000,000.

VERDICT
In Favor of Howe's Standard Scales.

We, the undersigned, comprising all the wholesale Butchers of Chicago, are using the Improved Howe Standard Scales, and after using Fairbanks' and other Scales, do find that the improvements in the Howe Scale render it the best.
We use a scale severely, and find the Howe to be the strongest.
We weigh out each day over thirty thousand dollars worth of meat, to the retail markets, in various quantities, and require our large scales to weigh small fractions of a pound.
This merit we have found is alone possessed by the Improved Howe and is maintained after the most severe and longest tests, being attributable to the patent chilled iron balls between the platform and knife edges, on which all friction is received, thus preserving the fine edge of the pivots on which the correct and delicate action of a scale depends.
We also find the Improved Howe Scales the most economical, not needing the frequent repairs that Fairbanks' and other scales do.

ADIRONDACK MURRAY is to have a paper, which is to be called the Golden Rule, and will be religious and secular, dealing with men and politics, as well as religion and horses. Murray is a racy writer, and a man of more calibre than Talmage.

THOSE of our readers who propose to visit Cincinnati during the coming Industrial Exposition, will be glad to know that the GAZETTE can be seen on file at the office of E. N. Freshman, Advertising Agent, 190 West Fourth street, where all facilities will be extended them to read their home news.

DON CARLOS again finds it necessary to discipline his officers,—a court martial and file of soldiers being the means employed,—in order to stop disaffection, and prevent desertion. When such severe measures are resorted to, they strongly indicate weakness, the near break up of his forces and the ending of the struggle.

THE closing day of this, and the first day of next month are the last days for securing registration, and voters who are unassessed must attend to having their names registered or risk losing their votes. And this duty must be attended to in person. We hope all Republicans in the several precincts will see to it, that their names are properly placed on the Registry list.

THE unfortunate Mrs. Lincoln is declared to be fully restored to soundness of mind once more, and will soon again mingle with her friends and in society. This will prove agreeable intelligence to all who sympathize with the unfortunate lady in her distress. The horror of the assassination of her husband rested upon her, showing how terribly she was shocked by that event. It will be fortunate if she is, indeed, fully cured.

THE probabilities favor the Republicans in the North Carolina Constitutional Convention. At the present there is a tie between the Republicans and Democrats, while of the three Independents, one acts with the Republicans, one with the Democrats, and the third, who has not indicated his preference, was elected in opposition to a Democrat. If the Republicans have the power, they will at once adjourn the Convention sine die.

THE school vacation rapidly approaches its close, and we soon will have the educational institutions in full activity. The children have grown generally tired of vacation, and are eager for school days to come again. It argues well for our schools that however ready the children may be to enjoy their Summer vacation, they are equally ready, when it is ended, to come back to the scenes of study, and engage again in the work of the school room.

THE proposed visit of the Prince of Wales to his Indian Empire, and the talked-of ostentation of his outfit and display, has led a number of English journals to cruelly describe the splendor of the Eastern princes among whom he will move. Of course, the collection of precious stones, and the display of barbaric splendor is far greater than the Prince can possibly aspire to, and the reminder is not a very consoling circumstance at the inception of his journey.

THE Cuban cause once again looms hopefully up. The Spaniards are much dispirited, their forces reduced, and their exchequer empty. A levy of ten thousand additional troops was made for the relief of those on duty, but thus far no results have come of it. In the meantime those in the field are unpaid, and wearied out with frequent marchings, and much watching. In recent contests, the Cubans have been victorious in the main, and have succeeded in inflicting serious loss on their persecutors. Valmaseda would like to resign, but there are no others in high position who care to succeed him. It seems unfortunate that something cannot be done to put an end to the war, and set the Cubans free.

PUBLIC sentiment, in Reading, evidently does not tolerate the brutality which drove a poor woman to drown herself and three children. The husband who drove her away from her home was shot while standing at her grave, and while not killed, it is tolerably evident he will be, unless he can succeed in escaping from the city. The illegal taking of life is never to be commended, and yet it becomes a nice question whether, when persons artfully torture others to death, in a manner that leaves them free from law, there should not be some punishment meted out, adequate to the crime. And where the people rise en masse, to indicate the right, there has been, in this country, a general acquiescence in the justice of their proceedings.

IT is becoming more and more manifest that the contrast between Republican and Democratic administration, in the States South, is so largely in favor of Republicans, that a revulsion of popular feeling is going on which promises to give a majority of the States South to the Republicans Presidential year. North Carolina recently went Republican by 18,000 majority,—a revulsion of over 30,000 as compared with the previous election. In Florida the State is prospering so greatly under Republican administration, that the people indicate a purpose to permit no change. South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana may also be said to be practically assured to the Republican party. We fully believe it to be also true, that the people of Ohio, disgusted with the shameful corruption of the Democratic Legislature, of last year, and the shameless demagoguery of Allen and Cary, will go Republican more heavily than for many years. So affairs are coming right.

THE even flow of the peach crop is something of a surprise to those who thought the fruit all killed by the severe frosts of late Spring. On Friday last 78,500 baskets of peaches were taken from the Delaware orchards and sent out on 157 cars to many points of destination. Two thousand baskets came Westward. It is declared that the Western trade has not proved profitable thus far, owing to the competition of Western peaches. The best of the season has not yet been reached, and the quality of the fruit now being received is far below what it will be when the highest standard is fully reached. In Baltimore the business of canning is being carried on extensively, and the prospect is that canned peaches will be more plentiful and cheaper than at any previous time.

EX-SENATOR ROSS, of Kansas, who was a member of the United States Senate during the impeachment trial of Andrew Johnson, publishes a long article explaining and defending the course of the four recusant Republicans who voted for acquittal. He claims that at the last the impeachment degenerated into a mere attempt to capture the Government. His article is based upon a theory which we do not believe to be correct,—that Johnson was attempting to carry out Lincoln's reconstruction policy. Lincoln, when he last spoke on the subject, had not fully defined his policy, even in his own mind, and would undoubtedly have kept in harmony with the general teachings of his party. Johnson soon opposed the views of Republicans, and then stubbornly fought all who did not agree with him. Mr. Ross cannot easily explain, on such grounds, that affair.

THE reception given Mr. Sankey, at his home, on Sunday, and of which the GAZETTE contained the only report, was one of those quiet, earnest, religious greetings, pleasant to remember, and perfectly proper in itself. The gathering was large, the spirit fervent and religious, and the congratulations and reply in excellent taste. The modest, humble spirit of the man, and his dependence on Divine aid, illustrate the exact secret of their success. Moody is possessed of the same spirit, and this, joined with plainness and practicalness of address, aimed to enforce the vital necessity of the religious life, and the accompanying music, backing the teachings of Moody by the power of Christian song, served to accomplish the great work achieved in England and Ireland. The modesty of these men, and their self-abnegation, are elements of heroism.

ALL the complicated and troublesome questions, which have given many wars to Europe, have been brought to the foreground once more by the Horzegovinian revolt. Russia declares that she is anxious to avoid a general war, but is troubled to know how this can be done, unless the revolt is quieted or positively suppressed. In the meantime it has taken the features of a religious war, and has greatly spread in its proportions. All the successes have been with revolutionists, and they are confident of ultimate success. The great powers have been so impressed with the strength of the insurrection that they have advised Turkey to concede local self-government to the revolting provinces, and thus pacify them. This was at first refused, but now the Sultan shows signs of conceding what is demanded, but unless this is done quickly the scope and power of the revolt cannot be indicated.

THE question of currency as to its amount and subdivision, has been largely speculated upon, some writers making out an increase since 1865, and others a decrease. We gave, a short time since, the figures in our financial column, but these were challenged by a writer, who proceeded to make an estimate, based on the report of the Comptroller of the Currency. The official report of Secretary McCulloch, at the end of October, 1865, and which included compound interest, five per cent. Treasury and State bank notes, showed an aggregate of circulation of all kinds, of $774,200,000. The latest record of present circulation puts it at $742,119,517, which shows a contraction of $32,000,000, within ten years of time. This is $20,000,000 more than we gave in our financial columns, but we judge it to be approximately correct. There is great difficulty in reaching precise results, owing to the fact that accounts are never so completely footed up as to be precise.

THE New York World, in its effort to compel the Pennsylvania Democracy to march up to the hard money standard, is telling some very plain truths, in a decidedly cutting way. It says: "The Democratic party is either a thing of shreds and patches, or it is a party with fixed principles and established traditions, which have the warrant of experience and the approval of reason and common sense." This means that it must be a unit on all questions. It must either accept the Ohio doctrine entire or repudiate it wholly. "In 1872," it sorrowfully says, "we went into the contest for the Presidency with the best cause that ever party had, but with a candidate who represented nothing (apart from 'clasping hands across the bloody chasm'), except what was antagonistic and repulsive to Democracy, and with a platform that resembled the farrago of a beggar's basket. The natural, inevitable result was a defeat both crushing and humiliating. We ate no end of dirt, and got nothing by it—only kicks and contempt. We hurrahed for Greeley and elected Grant. We disgraced ourselves, and were trampled in the mire by the triumphal procession of our adversaries." The example furnished is rather a bad one. The Democracy were sufficiently united on the surface, but they were so palpably hypocritical that the country refused to trust them. We have now a question to ask, based on the above: If they were untrustworthy in 1872, when they joined hands with the Liberals, are they more trustworthy now, when they are for inflation and hard money both?

ROBBING IN AMERICAN CITIES.

The New York and Brooklyn papers occasionally deal with the costliness of public enterprises in those cities, and the sum total of their showing is fearful indeed. It is claimed that Central Park, New York, an enterprise popular in itself, but so outrageously costly under the management of Peter B. Sweeney, that it is as much a monument of rascality as of taste and beauty. The Court House in New York has been frequently dwelt upon, and its immense costliness fully revealed. The bridge over the East River is just now under discussion. It was to have cost $5,000,000 at the outset, and it now will require, it is admitted, at least $13,000,000, while those who have watched its progress declare it will cost not less than $20,000,000. While enterprises of this character were in progress, taxation steadily increased, which is accounted for, as to Brooklyn, as follows: "One of the ways in which the people have been deceived for the past six years is the false valuation placed upon property. While in 1868 the property was assessed at $149,000,000, the next year it was jumped up to $197,000,000. The reason for this extraordinary measure was to cover up the enormous increase of $7,200,000 in the debt, largely for patent pavements. The tax rate the previous year had reached $3 76 on the $100. The Ring wanted to spend more money, but to make it appear that they spent less they added $35,000,000 fictitious valuations to the property, and nominally reduced the tax-rate to $3 26, when in reality it was over four per cent. Because of this barefaced fraud to protect local swindlers, the people of Brooklyn were compelled for four years to pay $200,000 annually on State taxes which they ought not to have paid."

Water works have afforded another opportunity for immense outlays in New York. The New York Water Works have cost $32,670,313, and yet in many parts of New York water cannot be had on the second floors of houses, except by the use of force pumps. Of the amount expended, the Times says that $13,000,000 have been expended during the past twelve years, and that at least one-half the amount has been stolen outright. The worst of it is that with all this, the expenditures go on in about the same ratio, and are rolling up a debt,—interest and expenditures,—of about $3,000,000 a year. The Cincinnati Commercial declares that the experience of that city, so far as it went, was fully as bad as that of New York. All sorts of experiments were tried, by way of bringing a water supply to that city, and the amount of money spent was very large. One million of dollars, it declares, was absolutely wasted on a mere mud-hole. These are but few of the extravagances and swindlings of those cities; but we call attention to them, because the items named are the ones that have been thought to be reasonably free from corruption and swindling. The Croton system of New York has been thought to be completed for years. The mere extension of mains to new buildings ought not to occasion a large outlay. Yet it has swallowed up millions annually. The bridge and Park were thought to be especially essential works, and yet rascality entered deep into them. We have only to say of Cincinnati, Brooklyn and New York, where all these things occurred,—they are Democratic cities.

ANDY JOHNSON.

Some Reminiscences of the Dead Ex-President.

Correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 19, 1875

HOW SOON WE ARE FORGOT!

It is but one little month since the news of Mr. Johnson's death thrilled the American heart, and yet his name is scarcely mentioned excepting by his immediate friends and by an occasional vampire of a news-monger, such as you exposed in yesterday's Commercial.

On the Crawfordsville and Evansville Railroad, however, I had the pleasure of meeting the Hon. Henry K. Wilson, State Senator from Sullivan county. In the course of a conversation, in which the action of the last Legislature and the present aspect of politics were discussed, he referred to the fact of being a native of Tennessee.

"What part of Tennessee?" I asked.

"Greenville, the home of Andy Johnson," was the reply.

"Then you must have known him," I observed.

"Long and well," Mr. Wilson replied, and added: "Andy Johnson was working at his trade when I left Tennessee. Indeed, he made the suit of clothes I wore to this State. The material was mixed gray cloth, and it fitted and wore well. I reminded Mr. Johnson of it when he was President, and told him if I had known he would ever become President, I should have preserved the suit. Andy laughed, and said there was no lack of his make of clothes around; that a few days before an old neighbor called to see him, with a coat of his making on. 'It didn't look so bad,' said Andy with a smile."

"What kind of a looking man was Mr. Johnson when you knew him in Tennessee?" I asked, "that is, did he impress you as more capable than other men in his condition of life?"

"He was very much such a looking man as he was later in life. He then had a thoughtful and rather sad face, and, I remember, he impressed me with a feeling of respect, which was not materially increased by his subsequent success. I can not say that I anticipated his elevation, either, but I am sure it did not surprise me."

"Is it true that his wife taught him to read and write?"

"Hardly; but her education had not been neglected. She had a fair common school education, but she was in every sense his helpmeet. She gave shape to his crude ambition, and encouraged his devotion to the interests of the people. Both he and she were 'of the people,' to use the words of Mr. Lincoln, and I think he made the elevation of the people the ruling principle of his life. When I was acquainted with him in Tennessee he was constantly studying a remedy for the condition of the poor man, who, you know, in the days of slavery, had very little chance in the South. I know he signalized his first term in Congress by advocating the Homestead bill, which he lived to see a law. From the time he made my suit of clothes I did not see him again until I was on my way to the Charleston Convention. I stopped at Washington on purpose to see him. I had some difficulty in finding him. Nobody seemed to know his whereabouts, and one or two of those Southerners affected ignorance of such a man being in Congress. You see it was a bitter pill to some of them—his success. At length I found him in quiet little quarters over a bookstore on Pennsylvania avenue, hard at work on the speech I alluded to before. He was glad to see me, and shoving aside his papers, said he would SHUT UP FOR THE DAY, and proposed showing me around the city. We talked over old times, and he took me to the Senate, where he procured me a seat in the body of the house, and I had the pleasure of hearing him speak on the Homestead bill. A Southern fire-eater attempted to ridicule him by proposing that every settler should be given a township of land, but Mr. Johnson was not to be put down that way, and by the dignity of his manner and subject commanded respect. He then had some hopes of the nomination for President (and he got some votes in Convention,) and asked me whom I was instructed to vote for. I told him my constituents had given me instructions to vote for Stephen A. Douglas. I did not see Mr. Johnson again until he was President, and he received me exactly as he did when I went to him to be measured for a coat. If anything he was a little more cordial, and a little of the reserve was lifted off his manner. He was a strange, strange man, and I doubt that if he will ever be rightly understood. He never opened his heart to me, but I think I appreciated his manly worth."

THE OLD STORY.

A Pseudo Central American Planter Deceives a Maiden Lady of Lowell and Runs Off With Her Money.

The Spindle City was visited, a little more than a month ago, by a corpulent, bald-headed individual, who, not finding hotel life satisfactory, knocked at the door of Miss Louisa M. Ricker, who has kept a boarding-house in Lowell many years, and desired to make his home there. Miss Ricker, who is a kind-hearted woman, about fifty-five years old, admitted him to her family of boarders, and was by degrees informed that she entertained a great grandee from Central America, who had purchased vast estates of the Government there, and proposed to run them in modern style, obtaining implements, etc., in Yankee land. He represented that he was fabulously rich, and only wanted some one to share his affluence. Miss Ricker, at his request, kindly recommended two ladies, who didn't seem to find any attraction or affinity in the planter; and so, as a last resort, he proposed to the landlady, who appears to have accepted him without demur. She told him that she never made a dollar keeping boarders, and he professed to be glad to know that she was not cumbered with much of this world's goods. They were married; and en route for a grand wedding journey to Niagara Falls and San Salvador, on Monday, not expecting to return to Lowell. Mrs. Planter took all her savings, amounting to about $700, from the Lowell Bank. When the happy couple arrived in Boston the planter ensconced his wife at the Massachusetts Hotel, leaving the baggage at the station, as they only proposed to stay an hour or so before taking the cars for Niagara. He told her he could take care of the money better than she; and moreover, could use it to advantage in buying machinery; and so he took the money and bade his wife good-by for a moment while he went out to purchase tickets for "their wedding journey." Neither the planter nor the money have since been heard from, but as the baggage has disappeared, it is safe to say that the citizen of San Salvador is at this moment a thousand miles away from his deluded bride. The deceived woman feels the desertion of her husband very keenly; and, as she returns to take up the round of hard work again, will have much sympathy.—Boston Globe.

What Savages Think of Twins.

In Africa, according to Dr. Robert Brown, ("Races of Mankind,") the birth of twins is commonly regarded as an evil omen. No one, except the twins themselves and their nearest relative, is allowed to enter the hut in which they first saw the light. The children are not to play with other children, and even the utensils of the hut are not permitted to be used by any one else. The mother is not allowed to talk to any one not belonging to her own family. If the children both live till the end of the sixth year, it is supposed that Nature has accommodated herself to their existence, and they are henceforth admitted to association with their fellows. Nor is this abomination of twin births restricted to Africa. In the Island of Bali, near Java, a woman who is so unfortunate as to bear twins, is obliged, along with her husband, to live for a month at the sea-shore or among the tombs, until she is purified. The Khasis of Hindostan consider that to have twins assimilates the mother to the lower animals, and one of them is frequently put to death. An exactly similar belief prevails among some of the native tribes of Vancouver Island. Among the Ainos, one of the twins is always killed, and in Arebo, in Guinea, both the twins and the mother are put to death.—From Popular Science Monthly for September.

WILLIAM MORGAN.

A Minnesotian Throws Considerable Light on His Mysterious Fate—Morgan Discovered in Maine Nearly Twenty-five Years After His Disappearance.

Editors of the St. Paul Pioneer Press:

ANOKA, MINN., August 17.

I see by your issue of the 13th inst. that the name of William Morgan, with all the mystery that surrounds the fate of this unfortunate man, is brought again before the public by the publication of two letters written upon this subject by the Hon. Thurlow Weed.

Perhaps I can throw more light upon the fate of Morgan than any other person living. Prior to 1826, the time of his disappearance, my father, then a young man, formed his acquaintance and knew him well.

In the year 1827 or 1828 my father went eastward as far as Great Falls, N. H., where he remained a few years. Here he married, and here he experienced religion and united with the Methodist Episcopal church. Feeling a deep love for the cause he had so lately espoused, he determined to devote the remainder of his life to the cause of Christ and humanity. With this object in view, he entered the ministry, and started as a missionary for the wilds of Northern Maine, which then was just being opened up to civilization.

Arriving at Moulton, Maine, he decided to locate there, and enter at once upon his work; and here he resided for a number of years. In 1844, he went still further north, and settled at Fort Fairfield. This part of Maine was then an unbroken wilderness, save a few straggling settlements that were many miles apart. In these missionary labors he visited these settlements from Sabbath to Sabbath.

Upon one of these routes that he traveled through the forest, guided only by the trees that were blazed to mark the way, stood a solitary cabin, with but a lonely occupant, a man well advanced in years. The cabin as well as the little clearing around it showed marks of age, and led one to the conclusion that its occupant had long been a denizen of these wilds. With this strange old man my father often tarried and passed many pleasant hours while resting his weary limbs.

Not only the hermit, but the cabin excited his astonishment, being built in a very unique manner, and constructed without the use of nails or anything else, save what he could procure from the forests.

In conversation with this strange creature the conviction gradually forced itself upon my father that he had seen him before—but when and where. Those questions he could not answer at once, but the truth finally flashed upon him that this lonely old man was none other than the friend of his early years, William Morgan.

With this truth pressing upon him, he resolved to keep it a secret for a while until he should make himself doubly sure of the fact by watching him closely, and by tracing the resemblance, if any existed, between this old man and young Morgan. Thus, with the hermit all unaware that his true identity was suspected by any one, my father watched and studied him until he had not a shadow of doubt but what this was the veritable William Morgan who, it was alleged, the Masons had murdered so many years before. Upon making inquiry in the settlements of those who came there first, they stated that they knew nothing about him only this, that when they came still he was there. He told some of his discovery, which soon reached the ears of the hermit, when he silently and unknown to any one departed in the darkness of the night; none knew where, but doubtless to seek anew some secluded spot where he could remain in solitude undisturbed by his brother man.

When William Morgan was abducted by his brother Masons and carried to Fort Niagara he doubtless escaped from their hands, and fearing that his life would pay the forfeit for his dastardly outrage against the Masonic fraternity if seen again by one of their number, he fled here to the boundless forests of Northern Maine. And here he had lived all these years, his only companions the birds of the air and the wild beasts of the forests.

His wants that he could not supply from the soil and from the game that is abundant in those parts, were probably met by visiting the settlements of the French refugees upon the St. John's river.

The life that he led here must have indeed been a singular and a lonely one, and doubtless the first years of his life were full of terror, of fear, and disquietude. At the rustle of every leaf and the breaking of every twig he would fancy an assassin was creeping upon him to strike him down; but as the years stole by this feeling would give way to one of greater security and safety, till at last, like Selkirk, he would feel that he was "monarch of all he surveyed." Yours truly,

A. P. ROGERS.

COUNTRY GIRLS.

Whom Shall We Marry?

A correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean from Bismarck, Ill., says:

"Whom shall we marry?" "Maid" says, in the paper of August 4, "Go west, young man, go west," and marry a "country girl." I say, stay where you are, and marry a sensible girl, whether from city or country. A man is an idiot who marries a country girl thinking thereby to get a capable wife. A country girl brought to the city, after having been bred in a very plain way upon a farm, begins to put on airs, thinking that shoddy finery and idleness will compensate for want of sense; whereas a city girl in the same grade of society might make him a capable, earnest wife. There is a great deal of romance in the idea of country girls, but the reality is often far from pleasing. I know a young man who started in a good business a few years since, was engaged to a country girl, and wished to defer marriage for a year, until his business should stand on a firmer basis; she wrote him a most touching letter; it was so much better to marry at once; she had been brought up to work; her family had never kept servants; they would rent two or three rooms, furnished plainly; she would need no new clothes; would bring supplies from home, etc.—quite a glowing picture. Mark the sequel. They were married at a needless outlay of expense, rented a house, the husband buying all the furniture, the wife's "supplies" being one small box, upon which the husband paid the expressage. The "country wife" was afraid people would not think so much of her if she did her own work, so she must "keep a girl," and flaunted her finery on the street every day, wanting all the new styles she saw. The consequence was a wretched failure in business before the end of two years; and even that did not teach her wisdom. Young man, if you marry a country girl merely from motives of economy, you make a great mistake. Marry a woman of sense, education, and natural refinement, be she from the city or country, and, my word for it, you will have a wife who will be a helpmate for you under all circumstances.

Civil Rights.

The suit of Carrie Fisher against the Pullman Car Company, under the Civil Rights bill, appears like one in which the plaintiff is justly entitled to damages. She is a decent mulatto girl, a school teacher, who had occasion to go from Cincinnati to Washington. She was ill, as she alleges, and wished to engage a berth in a sleeping car; but, although there were several vacant, she was refused, and was compelled to travel in an ordinary car, to the aggravation of her illness. It may be said that if there had been no sleeping car she would have been content with the other, and that the providing of beds is not a part of the business of common carriers. But that does not lessen the essential injustice of the case, and if the Civil Rights bill is of any value at all it ought to cover just such cases as this. The darkeys who are refused drinks or turned out of billiard rooms we never had much sympathy for.—Phila. Times.

Experience of a Lightning Stroke.

Mr. A. P. Bumpass, living near Old Cotton Grove, in this county, was struck by lightning one day last week. He was ploughing in an open field, when a cloud full of electricity suddenly encompassed him on every side. Everything about him was as dark as midnight. Out of this darkness came a light above the brightness of the sun. It blazed but for a moment around him, the thunder pealed, and he became unconscious, and then all was still. On coming to consciousness he found that his horse was gone, the plough shivered into atoms, and himself weak and powerless. His left shoulder was bruised and paralyzed, his left hip bleeding, and the sole of his left foot shorn of its flesh, and he foot itself a perfect wreck. His cries brought assistance from his house hard by and, strange to say, he is in a fair way to recover from his wounds.—Jackson (Tenn.) Sun.

Fatal Accident on Monte Rosa.

Galignani says that a fatal accident has recently happened on one of the passes near Monte Rosa. After a period of storms, clear weather set in, and three separate parties of tourists with their guides met on the highest point of Trifijoch, where they lunched together and lingered to enjoy the splendid view of the peaks, covered with snow freshly fallen. One of the guides, named Antille, wished to return to his home, and joined the party which descended Zirval. He was not attached to the others by a rope, and when half way down his foot slipped on the melting snow, and he fell from rock to rock to the bottom of the immense ravine. His comrades hastened to the rescue, but they only found his remains horribly mangled, which were eventually removed to Zermatt. Antille was much esteemed as a guide, and had been married only about two months. The visitors in the neighborhood are making a collection for his widow.

Witchcraft in Gloucester.

In 1692, about the time of the Salem tragedy, Beelzebub, with a legion of evil spirits, was reported to be marching on Gloucester. It was asserted that men were seen at various times in the neighborhood of the town, resembling Frenchmen; they were repeatedly pursued, surrounded, and fired upon, and occasionally fell as if hit, but started up again and fled into the bush, leaving no foot-print on the soil, and making no audible sound. These occurrences became so frequent and alarming as to shake the doughty souls of the men of Gloucester, insomuch that they garrisoned their fort for some weeks, and kept constantly on the alert against the powers of darkness, peppering away at them occasionally with what seems to have been an ineffectual waste of powder and ball. But so real and universal was the panic that a reinforcement of sixty valiant men was actually sent from Ipswich to assist in the defense of the place against its imaginary foes. Finding the town too vigilantly guarded to be carried either by coup de main or siege, his Plutonian excellency brought off his forces in good order, and, calling up his reserves, made a combined, more insidious, and decisive attack on the Puritan settlements, which well-nigh succeeded at Salem.—S. G. W. BENJAMIN, in Harper's Magazine for September.

Death from Hiccoughs.

One of the most singular cases of death that ever came within our province to mention is that of Milton W. Blair, of Louisa county, who died last week, in California, of the hiccoughs. Mr. Blair is an old merchant of Louisa county, but had not been engaged in business for a number of years. Last fall he was attacked with fits of hiccoughing, which continued for some weeks with scarcely any intermission. Becoming alarmed at the long continuance of the spell, Mr. Blair came to Burlington to consult with a doctor, who, after treating him a while, declared he could give him no relief. From this city he went to Chicago and consulted the best medical authorities there, who did all in their power, but could not relieve him. By their advice he went to California, accompanied by his sister, thinking that the change of climate would help him, remaining in that State to the time of his death, hiccoughing almost continually, and having but few intervals of rest. The continued strain and distress wore him to a mere shadow of his former self, and last week he died.—Burlington (Ia.) Hawkeye.

For Singing Schools
No book can be better fitted to provide agreeable musical entertainment mingled with instruction, than the
!!SONG MONARCH!!
By H. R. PALMER, assisted by L. O. EMERSON.
PRICE 75 CENTS.
It contains the Singing School Course, usual in Chuch Music Books, with abundant exercises, etc., and, in addition, a fine collection of cheerful Easy Glees for practice, thus rendering it quite as interesting as a good easy Glee Book.
Musical Societies will bear in mind our new CHORUS BOOK, (18.00 per doz.) by Dr. Tourjee; also, Perkins' Anthem Book ($1.50); both fine collections or Choral Associations and for Choirs.
FOR CHOIRS.
The latest collection of Church Music by the successful compiler, H. R. Palmer, is !! THE LEADER !!
Not quite as large nor as expensive as other recent Church Music Books, it still contains a great variety of Metrical Music, Anthems, etc., etc., in addition to the usual Singing School Course. L. O. Emerson contributes a large number of tunes. Price $1.38, or $12.00 per doz.
Sold by all music dealers. Sent, post-free, for retail price.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, August 24, 1875.

The week opened quietly in financial circles, there being but a light demand for bank accommodation yesterday. The events of the past few weeks, including failures and the caution inspired by them, have caused much care on the part of the banks in receiving paper, and the result is a hesitancy in making offers. Business is, generally speaking, exceedingly dull, and yet there is hopefulness of an improved fall trade. The aggregate volume of business in this city, including manufactures, is quite considerable, but it represents so little of profit as to be very discouraging. The real estate market is also dull, —there being large amounts of property offering, at generally low figures, with but few purchasers.

In our shipments of domestic products to foreign countries during the past commercial year the various articles combined under the head of provisions present a conspicuous feature. Enumerated in the list are bacon and hams, butter, cheese, eggs, fish, lard, pork, etc., etc. In some of the articles there is a falling off compared with the shipments of the previous year, which is offset, however, by an increase in others. For instance, of bacon and hams there were shipped in 1875 250,280 950 pounds, against 347,405,405 pounds in the previous year; the valuation being $28,611,930 last year and $33,383,908 the year before. On the other hand, in beef there was a large increase, the values in 1875 being $4,197,956 against $2,956,676 in 1874. In butter the shipments last year showed an increase of $414,383, the reduction in 1873 being $1,092,381, while in cheese there was an increase of over a million and three-quarters. Last year the shipments of cheese aggregated 101,010,553 lbs, valued at $13,659,561, against 90,611,077 lbs in 1874. In lard there was considerable improvement, the shipments amounting to $22,900,486, against $19,303,019 the year before, but in pork there was a falling off of $187,217 last year, the shipments in 1874 amounting to $5,808,712.

An important market has been established abroad within a few years past for condensed milk, the figures every year showing a marked advance. The shipments in 1875 were valued at $123,565, an increase of $44,547 over the year before. In fish, dried, fresh, pickled and cured, the shipments last year were valued at $2,984,773, an increase of $959,961 as compared with 1874. Notwithstanding the restrictions placed by foreign countries upon the importation of American potatoes from fear of the Colorado beetle, there has, however, been an increase in the exportation of this vegetable, which has never been very great. The exportations last year were $522,144, an increase of $51,812 compared with the year before. In onions and other vegetables the shipments in 1875 were valued at $188,625, and in 1874 at $161,739—over $26,000 increase. Among minor items in exportation we have the shipment of eggs—34,119 dozen having been sent abroad last year, at a valuation of $8,743, an increase of over $3,000 as against the year previous.

NEW YORK, August 23, 1875.

Gold opened at 113¼, advanced to 113½, and closed at 113⅜. The borrowing and carrying rates were 1@2. Loans were also made flat. Governments were steady. Railroad bonds were firm. State securities were quiet. Stocks opened firm, and advanced ¼ to ½ per cent., but in late dealings the market gave indications of weakness, and under considerable realizing some specialties experienced quite a severe break down. Northwest shares in particular felt the force, preferred declining from 59½ to 57½ and common from 43⅜ to 42¼. Lake Shore was held with firmness, but St. Paul common went off to 38½ and preferred to 64¾. Rock Island sold at 108¼. Union Pacific at 73, Pacific Mail at 38⅞, and Western Union Telegraph at 84½@84⅜. There was no recovery in final trade.

The annual report of the Northwestern Company to June 1, the main result of which was made public some weeks ago, appeared more in detail on the street to-day, and made an unfavorable impression, causing a decline in the Northwestern shares mentioned above. The gross earnings were a decrease of about 12 per cent.

The transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 74,000 shares, of which 7,600 were Pacific Mail, 12,000 Western Union, 9,000 Northwest common, 4,200 preferred, 5,000 St. Paul common, 6,000 preferred, and 17,000 Lake Shore.

A small operator on the "bear" side of St. Paul failed to-day.

LONDON, August 23.—The week opens with increased firmness. There is no great activity. All danger of European complications arising out of the Herzegovinian troubles has passed away, and a feeling of confidence and security seems to prevail. United States 5-20s of '65 have appreciated ⅛ per cent. and 10-40s ¼ per cent. There is an entire recovery of the decline in the flurry of Thursday. The New York Central and Hudson River railroads have declined ½. Illinois Central Railway has advanced ½, and Central Pacific sixes ½. The demand for discount is light at bank rate, as well as in the open market. U. S. 5-20s '65, 106½; do '67, 108¾; 10-40s, 104 3-4; new 5s, 105⅛; Erie 14⅜; preferred 30.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, August 23, 1875.

The trade movement was fairly active with commission houses and jobbers. Popular makes 4 yards brown sheetings are active and closely sold up. Bleached shirtings are dull and irregular in outside brands. Prints and ginghams are in good demand, and dress goods active. Wool flannels moved in fair lots, but blankets and woolens for men's wear continued quiet.

Boston.

BOSTON, August 23.—Flour quiet; super western $5,25a5,70; common extras $6a6,50; Ohio, Indiana and Michigan winter $7a8; Illinois $6,25a9; fancy Minnesota $7,50a9,50. Corn quiet at 87a91c. Oats dull and nominal at 60a70c.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, Aug. 22, 1875.

Trade in general merchandise continues to drag along slowly, as is nearly always the case during mid-summer, and the leading markets have undergone but little change since the date of our last weekly review; the demand for almost everything is comparatively light, confined to immediate necessities, as the prevailing policy appears to be to carry just as little stock as is absolutely necessary. The custom which was once so common of stocking up in the spring and fall, is fast dying out, as there is no necessity for it now, as we are in railroad and telegraphic communication with almost every part of the country. Our merchants and manufacturers very generally anticipate an increased trade this fall, and with money easy and the crops pretty generally secured, there is no good reason apparent why their expectations should not be fully realized.

ALE—Trade continues very dull; it is no better than it was during local option. That the brewing has been very unsatisfactory is evident from the numerous failures within the past year or two. X $8 per bbl. to city and $9 to country; XX $10; India $11. Half bbls. in proportion.

ASHES—There is no improvement in trade, nor is it likely that there will be as long as the glass trade continues in its present depressed condition.

BEANS—Continue very quiet but with a light supply and an occasional inquiry prices are still maintained; prime mediums in a jobbing way $2,10a2,15; prime navies, of which our market is bare, would bring 5 to 10 cts. per bushel additional. The consumption during the next two or three months will be light.

BEESWAX—There is little or no movement in this article, and, in the absence of sales, we continue to quote at 28a30.

BUTTER—The receipts are increasing and our market lacks firmness. Much of the stock offering is not up to the views of buyers in quality. What is most inquired for now is strictly fresh, fine butter of good color and make. Old stock worked over is simply accumulating without finding buyers. We quote extra creamery at 27a28c; choice 22a25c; prime sweet, but a trifle off color 18a20c; lower grades 12 to 15c.

BROOMS—"Union Factory" Brooms:—No. 2 common, $2.50; Ns. 3 hurl, $2,75; No. 4 hurl, $3,25; No. 5 hurl, $3,50; No. 6 hurl, $3,75; No. 3 carpet, $4; No. 4 carpet, $4,25; No. 5 carpet, $4,50; Fancy parlor, $4,25 a4,50. Steamboat brooms, $3,50a4,50; Whisks, plain, $1,25a1,50; fancy whisks, $1,50a2; toy brooms, $1,25a1,75.

CANNED GOODS—Large dealers are now contracting for their stock for the coming season. Peaches are offered in large lots at $2,00 per dozen for 3 lb. cans in Baltimore. Tomatoes at $1,30 for standard brands of 3 lb. cans. A good trade is anticipated this season, as the fruit in this neighborhood is such an entire failure that families who put up their own supply last year are putting up none at all this season, consequently a much larger demand is looked for. Prices are so much lower than this time last year, when Tomatoes sold at $1,90 in Baltimore and Peaches at $3,15 per dozen, that they can be bought cheaper than families can put them up, and the low prices, too, will put them within the reach of everybody.

CHEESE—The market is less active and weaker, and we have reduced our quotations slightly within the past week; it is not likely, however, that prices will go much lower; prime Ohio Factory, 11a11½ in job lots. There is little or no demand for low grade stock, and dealers report that it is difficult to dispose of at any price.

COKE—The general position of the market remains as last noted; business continues quiet and prices unchanged; $2,65a2,75 per ton, delivered free on cars in Pittsburgh.

COAL—There is no movement here nor is it to be expected that there will be while navigation remains suspended; business is generally reported unfavorable, as the markets below are overstocked, and prices are down to a point that afford little or no margin for profit. An effort is being made to reduce the price of mining, and a strike wherever it is attempted is not improbable. Coal is quoted at 7½a8c afloat in Cincinnati and Louisville.

CORDAGE AND ROPE—There is no improvement to note in trade, and no change in prices, which we annex as follows:

MANILA ROPE.

Sash and Bell Cord	20 to 25 " " "

DRIED FRUIT—There is no movement, nor is it to be expected at this season of the year, when the markets are always well supplied with fresh fruits and vegetables.

EGGS—Have ruled dull and neglected at 14a15. They are mostly of poor quality too, that loose heavily in counting out. But little change for the better will occur until cool weather sets in, and the rush of fruit is over.

FRUITS—Apples are selling readily at full prices, $3a4 per bbl., with a demand fully up to the supply. Peaches continue to come forward freely, but with a steady demand there is no accumulation, and prices are maintained; $1a1,50 per box for fair to prime. Shippers complain that quoted rates afford no margin for profit. Plums in fair supply and selling at fair prices; $2,50a3,50 per box. Blackberries and Whortle Berries, $1,25a1,50 per pail Water Melons, 10 a20c each, according to quality, size and condition.

FLOUR—The market has been rather quiet during the past week, but the general tone of the market is firmer, and while it is not believed that prices will go any higher, it looks at this writing as if old stock was destined to hold its own; and furthermore, that it will command a premium over new for some time to come. There is no getting over the fact that a large proportion of the Winter Wheat in Western Penna., Southern Ohio, Indiana and Northern Kentucky was considerably damaged by the rains, and therefore, it follows that flour made from this damaged wheat will not be first class in point of quality. The receipts for some time past have been comparatively light, from which it is fair to infer that the trade are apprehensive that it would not be safe to stock up, and it is probable that the hand-to-mouth policy will be pretty closely adhered to for the present, or until the market becomes more settled; prices have undergone no change whatever. We continue to quote, in a jobbing way, at $7,25a7,50 for fair to choice brands of winter and spring. Rye Flour, $6,00a6,25.

GRAIN—The receipts of Wheat continue meagre, and with an increased demand and little or none offering, the market is firmer, and prime old stock would sell more readily and at better prices possibly than could have been obtained a week ago, as the stock in the hands of millers is very much reduced, and they will want old to mix with the new for some weeks to come. We continue to quote at prime Penna. and Ohio red winter at $1,55a1,57, and 5a7c additional for amber and white. The receipts of Oats, particularly new crop, have been quite liberal within the past couple of days, and the market has eased up considerably in consequence; prices have dropped 5a8c per bush. New crop, for immediate delivery on track, selling at 50a55c, and, to arrive, 45a50c, according to quality and condition; thus far the quality of the offerings have been better than was expected. Old Oats bring but little more than prime new; neither dealers nor consumers are making much difference. The receipts of Corn continue very light, but there is not much call for it; distillers generally are stopped, the mills are using very little and feeders are timid about feeding it at this season of the year. Shelled is quoted at 80a82, free in elevator, and Ear at 83a85, on track. There is no demand for Rye, and but little offering; we quote nominally at $1a1,05. Nothing doing in Barley, and in the absence of sales, we omit quotations. We learn from reliable sources that the crop in New York and Canada promises well, both in quality and quantity and the only thing wanted was good weather to secure it. The advices from the northwest are also favorable.

GROCERIES—Coffee—The Rio telegram of the 19th inst. reporting an advance of 200 reis, with very light purchases for the United States, strengthened the market, which closed strong with the tendency upward. The importers are confident in the belief that prices will rule much higher. Java is up one cent per pound. Sugar is steady with a fair business doing. Molasses, Syrups and Rice in fair request and steady. Roasted Coffee was to-day advanced one cent per pound.

All sizes over 52 inches in length, and not making 84 united inches, will be charged in 84 united inches bracket. An additional 10 ℔ cent. will be charged for all glass more than 40 inches wide. Orders taken by agents are subject to approval of manufacturers when received.

WHITE LEAD—Trade is fair, although orders are mostly small, and makers continue to complain that there is little or no margin for profit at current rates, 9¾c by the ton, and 10¼a10 1-2 in smaller lots.

THE WOOL TRADE.

Pittsburgh.

The wool market is still extremely dull, but few buyers even at low prices. The harvest being over, we learn that wool growers are anxious to sell their clips, but reluctant to accept current values. In the month of June some orders for fine wools were taken at 43 to 45, and afterwards in July at 40 to 43c, but we do not hear of a single buyer in the country who is now willing to pay over 40c, with the choice grades of fine fleece selling in Boston and New York markets at 45a46c, and we do not see any margin for shippers even at 40c. The greatest complaint made by manufacturers who consume fine wools is the greasy and heavy condition of the bulk of this class of wools. We notice a determined purpose on their part to not purchase unless all badly washed, greasy or heavy wools are put in at the proper discount.

We quote prices nominal.

NEW YORK.

Values are still to some extent unsettled, but the tendency to work into uniform shape on the general market, to which we have before referred, seems to be quite well developed. A great many irregular parcels can here and there be found on which the terms would in all probability be made comparatively attractive to a quick buyer, but most dealers have adjusted their stocks into easy handling condition, and are inclined to pause and ascertain if further concessions be necessary to secure an outlet. A pretty liberal shrinkage has already taken place, which it is thought must ultimately be appreciated and acted upon by the consumer. All will depend, however, upon the goods markets, and, as yet, the prospect on this outlook is not particularly reassuring or stimulating. A certain amount of material must be worked up, to be sure, but there is yet a surplus of supplies on the goods market which has to be disposed of, and the production must also be regulated to the consumption. This refers more particularly to fine clothing wools and their products, as the carpet stocks seem to be in fair shade to sell along steadily, though a larger supply than anticipated will be apt to check any great buoyancy. The movemet during the past week has been moderate and confined in the main to what buyers considered cheap lots, or such as they were compelled to take through necessity. It is probable, however, that some have obtained more than anticipated of fine wools, by having offers accepted which were supposed to be safe, the X and XX fleeces dropping off to about former inside bidding rates. Sales have been made at 47a48c for XX and better, including parcels which buyers were permitted to select from large stocks, and at the close few open bids are made above 45a48c. In short these grades, as before, continue most depressed, and are rather an exception to the general rule. Foreign clothing wools are dull, weak, and more or less nominal, but carpet grades are steady and in fair demand. The transactions reported for the past week embrace 10,000 lbs. Ohio X and XX fleeces at 45a48; 25,000 do. XX at 47; 50,000 do. XX, 40,000 do. do. and 28,000 do. Western fleeces, private terms; 4,000 do. fine heavy fleece, 37, 6,000 do. Michigan, 46; 4,000 do. fine unwashed medium fleece, 30a32; 5,000 do. medium do. do., 37; 150 bags mixed scoured, 61a85; 6 bags black do., 58; 1,000 lbs. unwashed combing, 45; 3,000 do. washed do., 50,000 do. combing delaine at 58a63.

PHILADELPHIA.

The market generally is dull, the inquiry being, as a rule, confined to small parcels to satisfy the immediate requirements of the manufacturers. Medium fleece and combing attract the most attention. About 200,000 lbs. sold at the following figures: Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia fleeces—XX and above, 45a47c: X, 45a47c: half blood, 50a51c: quarter blood, 46a48c: combing, fine unwashed, 30a31c; medium do, 36a37c; washed fleece, 62a65c; unwashed fleece, 40a43c; New York, Michigan and Wisconsin, XX and above, 44a45c; X 44a45c; half-blood, 48a50c; quarter-blood, 46a47c; Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota, full blood fleece, 44a45c; three-quarter blood 44a45c; half-blood, 46a48c; quarter blood 45a47c; common fleeces, 40a41c. Domestic pulled city merino, 42a45c; city super, 42a45c; city lambs, 40a53c; city short merino, 26a32c; Canada fleece, 60a62c.

BALTIMORE.

The Wool market continues steady. Receipts light. Sales are made of tubwashed at 47a51c, and unwashed 34a36c per lb. burry at 25c; fleece-washed at 40a42c.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 23, 1875.

CATTLE—GENERAL FEATURES OF THE MARKET.

About the only noticeable feature in the market, as compared with last Monday, was the reduced supply, 751, against 803 head, and there was no improvement in quality. The great proportion of the offerings consisted of common and medium cattle—rough and slippery, not over one-half fatted, and for these the market was exceedingly hard; prices ruled considerably lower, ¼a½c, and even at the decline trade was slow. There were only about three cars of choice beeves on sale, and for these the market was strong at very full prices: there were some cattle on sale from Chicago, which cost 7c there, and 7¾ here would not more than give the owners thereof an ordinary commission, if that. There were some very good fat cows and heifers sold at from 3½a4½c, and butchers killing this kind of stock certainly had no reason to complain, as they were able to obtain all they wanted on their own terms; holders were anxious to close out, and in not a few instances, the buyer was able to name the price. Nice little steers, weighing say from 900a1,000, went at from 4 1-2a5 1-2 cents, a decline of about 1c per lb within the past thirty days. With prime fed cattle, however, the position of the market was entirely different; the supply was very small, scarcely equal to the demand, and owners had no difficulty in realizing very full prices, 7¼a7¾; there were only about three carloads of this character on sale. Of Texans the number was small, but the quality was better than usual, sales having been made at from 5½ to 4a4¼. Grass bulls quotable at 2 1-2a3c; there were but few on sale, and but little inquiry for them.

The stock on sale to-day was reported as follows:

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply was considerably less than that of last week, and as usual rather common in point of quality; three-fourths probably of the 1,221 on sale were Lambs and the few Sheep were mostly common. With an average demand and diminished supply, the market was more active, the best evidence of which was that the pens were pretty well cleared early in the day, but while in some instances a slight advance may have been obtained for prime, the supply of which was light, we do not think there was any general change in prices as compared with last Monday. Sales of Sheep were made at 5a5 1-2c per lb. for good to extra, and Lambs may be quoted at $2a4 per head for common to extra.

The stock on sale to-day was reported as follows:

HOGS.

There were but a few on sale, yet the supply was fully up to the demand, which is usually light at this season of the year, and then the extremely high prices are not without their effect in curtailing the demand. Sales were reported to-day in a retail way at 8 1-2a8¾c per lb., for good, smooth butchering hogs.

FRESH COWS.

There was a fair supply to-day and the market was very generally reported dull, although prices were without quotable change. Following sales were reported: M. Humes one for $50; M. Flinner two for $60; John Beeler three for $135; Thompson & Finley one for $50.

VEAL CALVES.

The offerings of good veals continue light, and with an increasing inquiry, the market is firmer and within the past few weeks an advance of ¼a½ cent per lb. has been established. Quotable at 5 1-2a6 1-2 cts. per lb. for fair to choice. J. Sponsellar, of Ohio, sold 4 to-day at $8 per head, or about 6 cts. per lb.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 23, 1875.

The market for Crude continues quiet, and prices, as compared with Saturday, are without quotable change; immediate shipment, $1,12 1-2a1,15. Conduit certificates, 87 1-2a90. Refined weak and a shade lower. New York delivery, 11¼; Philadelphia and Baltimore, 10⅝a11; 8⅝c was the best bid today on cars here.

The shipments of refined last week were 14,747 bbls., of which 13,575 bbls. went over the Penna. Central, and 1,172 bbls. by way of Pittsburgh and Connellsville.

There is no change to note in Barrels: countries, $1,15a1,25; city make, $1,35a1,40

L. A. WELSH,
Sergeant Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was four feet four inches and falling slowly. Both the Allegheny and Monongahela continue to recede at headwaters.

THE A. J. Baker went to Mound City on Saturday for repairs.

CAPT. DAN MOORE is visiting his friends in and around Wellsville.

THE work of removing pig metal from the wharf continues, and it will soon be almost clear.

THE Wild Duck is en route from St. Louis, but she will hardly be able to get up until there is more water.

THE Salt Valley did not arrive until near noon, having been delayed by fog. She had a good trip of both passengers and freight.

THE Salt Valley, from Ironton, arrived and departed. The John L. Rhoads was to have left Cincinnati for this port yesterday.

THE steamer Exchange is announced to take her departure for Cincinnati to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

THE machinery of the Lizzie Hopkins is on the Cherokee, and will be transferred to a new steamer, for the Lafourche trade, at Jeffersonville.

MR. J. R. HUNTER, merchandise broker, who spent a couple of days in Cincinnati, returned home yesterday. Mr. H. thinks Cincinnati is considerable of a town.

THE transfer of the steamer Robert Michell, by the Evansville and New Orleans Packet Company, to Captain James Paul, was recorded at the Custom house on Friday.

CAPT. CAMPBELL SWENEY'S new boat was towed down from Brownsville by the towboat Alex. Foster, and it will be taken on down to Wheeling, where her machinery is. She is 175 feet in length, 34 feet beam and 4½ hold, and is intended for the Washita river trade.

A SIOUX CITY paper, of the 17th, says:—The steamer E. H. Durfee passed Fort Sully at daylight yesterday morning. She will reach Yankton to-day, with ordinary luck .... Everybody is wondering what has become of the May Lowre. She was expected at Yankton a week ago.

THE Cincinnati Commercial says:—Our correspondent, "Zag," in speaking of fog, says he heard of a new weather sign, called the "Pennsylvania Dutch sign," and is "fogs in August, and snow in winter." If the sign holds good, and snows are as plentiful as the fogs have been during this month, sleigh riding will cease to be a luxury.

IN reference to the explosion of the steamer Hugh Martin, in the Tennessee river, it has been ascertained that Jacob Fritz, the captain, was killed. His body was found at Tucker's Landing. Ely L—, a passenger, killed. The officers of the Martin did not remember his name, except that it was Ely, and his last name began with an L. He got on at Knoxville, and was going to Igos Landing. Oliver Henry, son of Wm. R. Henry, of Washington, owner of the landing. Oliver was standing on the landing when the explosion occurred, and a piece of timber struck him and broke his neck.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch says:—From this on till the end of the season the Keokuk Northern Line will dispatch two steamers daily. The Baird enters the Hannibal trade on Monday. This is a new enterprise on the part of the company. Business is fair. Commodore John A. Scudder has not yet replied to the petition requesting him to run his boats through to New Orleans. He has the matter under consideration, and will give his views on the question in a few days through the press, when, it is said, some startling facts will be made known concerning the falling off in our trade with the South, and those who pretend to be posted say he will not comply with the request. The weather is almost disagreeably cool. The John A. Scudder is receiving to leave for New Orleans on Tuesday.

THE fourth annual meeting of the National Board of Steam Navigation will take place in New York on Wednesday, September 1, at which time it is expected that every section of the country will be represented, as at former meetings, and it is to be hoped that the delegation will be even larger than at the great gathering at Louisville five years ago, when the Association was first brought into existence. The Executive Committee have an elaborate and practical report to make, and more decided steps will be taken this year to influence proper legislation at the hands of Congress than heretofore. The country at large is better conversant with the wants of the steamboatmen than they ever were, and we believe that Congress, as a body, understands the matter better than it ever did.—Cincinnati Commercial.

Movements of Light-House Tenders.

The Alice was at Louisville Saturday, and had located the following new lights between Evansville and Louisville:

Anderson's Bar—One head-light on Kentucky side at foot of bar, above Lewisport wharf. One head-light on Indiana side at old coal-tip.

Troy Reach—One head-light on Kentucky side, 200 yards below the lower double frame-house at foot of shore gravel.

Hog's Point—One head-light on Indiana side, 100 yards above the shore rocks.

Holt's Bar—One head-light on Indiana side, at the old sycamore tree.

Oil Creek—One head-light on Indiana side, below the saw-mill.

Blue River—One head-light on Kentucky side, at Peckenpaugh's house, foot of timber.

Mosquito Creek—One head-light on Indiana side, at head of rocks below Brown's house.

The Alice will locate several new lights between Louisville and Cincinnati, besides supplying and paying the keepers of the old lights. Then she will return from Cincinnati to Cairo. A light will be located at Hancock's Bar on return trip. At Cairo the Inspector will take the Lily and proceed to locate seventy-five or eighty signal lights on the Lower Mississippi River.—Cincinnati Gazette.

Fell Dead.

Yesterday afternoon a horse attached to car No. 13, "Short Line," Manchester Passenger Railway, fell dead at the corner of Fulton street and Pennsylvania avenue.

Health Report.

Dr. W. W. Cole, City Health Physician, submits the following report of deaths in Allegheny for the week ending last Saturday: Cholera infantum, 7; cerebro spinal meningitis, 2; chronic diarrhea, diptheria, croup, unknown, compression of the brain, still born, enteritis, pneumonia, tabes mesenterica, gastro enteritis, typhoid fever, 1 each; Males, 12; females, 8; total, 20.

Death of Smith Wilcox.

We gave an account in yesterday's issue of the accident which Smith Wilcox met with on Saturday last. He was removed to the West Penn Hospital, where he died yesterday morning. The Coroner was notified, and yesterday evening he held an inquest. The testimony proved that Wilcox fell under the moving train and was run over. The verdict of the jury was "accidental death." Deceased lived in the Thirty-third ward, city, and was married.

Reward Offered

Some wags of New Castle have issued and posted about that place a bill on which is printed the following:

$1,000 reward. The friends of the Neshannock Base Ball Club are anxious as to their whereabouts, and will pay the above reward in bonds bearing gold interest, for information that will lead to their discovery, dead or alive. The last known of them they were at Middleport, Ohio, where they won a prize—a gold ball. It is feared they have taken the advice of the immortal H. G. and gone west and got lost.

THEIR ANXIOUS FRIENDS.

A Curiosity.

While in New Castle on Saturday, a GAZETTE representative saw a curiosity in the shape of a minature clock, the face of which was not as large as a nickle penny. It is furnished with a pendulum which wags regularly, and the little clock, we are assured, keeps excellent time. The strange part of the matter is that the clock is worn as a shirt bosom ornament by the owner and maker, Mr. Theodore Rohr. It is fastened to the shirt by a pin and while the stud above regulates the hour hands, the stud below winds the clock up. This is probably the smallest piece of clock-work in the country. Mr. Rohr designs taking it to the centennial exhibition.

That Conspiracy Case.

Yesterday there was a hearing, before Alderman Peter Kreuter, in the case of Messrs. Schultz and Bowers, accused of conspiracy on oath of a man named Vogel. Anthony Weidman, Esq., appeared for the prosecution and Col. Thos. M. Bayne for the defense. The allegation was that some time ago Mr. Schultz, who is clerk to Alderman Milliken, issued a warrant for Vogel's arrest on some charge and Bowers served it. The prosecuting witness left the Alderman's office during the hearing and annoying Mr. Weidman he told the 'Squire to acquit the defendants and place the costs on the prosecutor, his client All of which was done on Jastinian principles.

Before Alderman McMasters

Yesterday J. F. Day made an information before Alderman McMasters charging John H. Gibson, of Washington county, with false pretenses. Mr. Day alleges that Gibson got a trunk and harness from him valued at $27.50 by taking him to a carriage shop, pointing to a buggy and telling Mr. Day to keep it as security until he settled. It was subsequently ascertained, as alleged, that the defendant did not own the buggy. A warrant for Gibson's arrest was issued, and yesterday an officer left to interview the defendant.

R. L. King makes oath against Homer Bushfield, charging him with obtaining money and board to the amount of $110 75 by pretending to own a large farm in West Virginia. Warrant issued.

Cathern Halloran accused her husband John of being a worthless vagrant who might make five dollars per day if he would, but instead of that he has been getting drunk. Ninety days to the work-house was John's portion.

Pittsburghers at Mayville.

During the season many Pittsburghers have found a comfortable home at the Mayville House, Lake Chautauqua, and the house has been something of a general headquarters for those of our citizens who sought rest and recreation at the lake. The establishment is located up town, where there are the balmiest of breezes, and where real quiet and freedom from excitement can be had, while a coach running to all trains renders communication with the station convenient and easy. The house is well fitted up; the rooms large, well furnished, scrupulously clean and well ventilated; the tables abundantly supplied with all that a healthy appetite desires. "Mine Host" Robertson seems to have a rare faculty—springing from real kindness of heart—in caring for his guests, and he is as popular alike with the transient traveler, as with the regular boarder. Under such management it is not surprising that he was overrun during the season and that his patronage warrants him in adding a hundred rooms to the house—which improvement is to be made before next season. The "Mayville House" is eminently deserving of the patronage it receives, and our friends who wish to enjoy all the comforts of home, and at very reasonable rates, during their summer sojournings at the lake, will find this just the place that fills the bill.

A Century After.

The third number of the beautiful illustrated serial, "A Century After," has been laid upon our table, and it is fully up to the high character of its predecessors. The engravings are remarkably fine, and the general typographical appearance as "pretty as a picture." The publishers announce, in answer to numerous inquiries, that they propose to have illustrated in the work, among other places, of interest, the following: Pittsburgh, Chambersburg, Wilkesbarre, Bethlehem, Erie, Valley Forge, Delaware Water Gap, Coatesville, The Alleghenies, Harrisburg, Reading, Scranton, Easton, Sunbury, Lehigh Valley, Chester, The Susquehanna, The Coal Regions, Lancaster, Gettysburg, Pottsville, Allentown, Williamsport, Mauch Chunk, Dingman's Ferry, Chester Valley, Juniata Valley, Bellefonte, Lock Haven, Conemaugh River.

The engravings yet to be published will be fully equal (in point of excellence) to those already issued, and in no department will the work be allowed to fall below the high standard which has been adopted for it. When the work is thus completed according to the designs, it will form a rare collection of some of the most exquisite specimens of the engraver's art.

It is sold only by subscription, and Mr. Preston Parr, at No. 106 Fourth avenue, has been appointed agent for this locality.

HALL'S CASE.

He is Released on Bail—Hays Improving.

Yesterday morning constable Irwin, of Alderman Edgar's force, made an information before Mayor McCarthy against Dave Hall for felonious assault and battery on Constable Hays. Ed. Sailer, Hall's companion at the time of the shooting, was also named in the information as an accomplice. Hall gave bail in the sum of $1,000 for a future hearing, and was released. His bondsman is John R. McKee. Sailor has not yet been apprehended.

Hay's condition was somewhat improved yesterday, and his physician now thinks he will recover.

With your ice cream eat the Macaroons Cocoanut Drops and Lady Fingers, manufactured by S. S. Marvin & Co. These goods are sold by many of the grocers, and at 91 and 93 Liberty street, at prices which are not extravagant.

SANKEY ON SUNDAY.

At Leetsdale Yesterday.

A Gazette Representative in New Castle—His Experiences there with the Great Evangelist—How he Met Mr. Sankey—What he Looks Like—The Welcome Home—Proceedings in the Sabbath School and the Opera House—Sundry Bits of News About the Hero of the Day—He Visits Leetsdale Yesterday. &c., &c.

It was about seven o'clock on Saturday evening when the writer stepped from a train at New Castle, on the Erie & Pittsburgh Railroad, with a view of seeing the famous Sankey, who, in connection with Mr. Moody, created such a sensation in Europe as evangelists and preachers of Christ and the Gospel. Crossing the bridge over the Neshannock we met Judge McIlravey, an old and well known citizen of the place, and a distant relative of Mr. Sankey. The compliments of the day were passed, and then we enquired for the Evangelist. The Judge pointed out a serious looking individual standing at a corner, who, he said, could give us all the information we required.

The writer approached him.

"Beg pardon stranger, but are you acquainted with Mr. Sankey?"

"Which one?" was the reply.

"The great evangelist" said the writer.

"Oh: him as was in Europe?"

"Yes."

"Is he back?" asked our friend.

This was

AN ASTONISHER FOR US.

Of all the people in the country one would think that no citizen of New Castle should be ignorant of the fact that the famous Sankey was at home with them. The man who in conjunction with Moody had captured audiences in Great Brittain to the extent of twenty thousand and more, and who's teachings and hymns had been translated, and read and sung in almost every language known across the water.

"Yes he's home," said the writer.

"That must be Iry," remarked our friend, and then he left us, expressing a determination to see if he was home.

On up the street and another gentleman was asked about Mr. Sankey, but knew nothing. New Castle on the Neshannock was a different place from New Castle but Tyne. There every child sings Sankey's Bible songs, but in New Castle, Pa., ne few appeared to know of him having accomplished anything unusual or having done anything particular that elevated him above the common sinners.

Subsequently the writer ascertained that Mr. Sankey was at the residence of a relative, a few miles in the country, and would not be visible in New Castle until Sabbath. The distance at which he was located alone prevented an interview, so we had to content ourselves at Sam Smith's pleasant hostelrie until morning.

HOW WE MET SANKEY.

It was about half past eight o'clock A. M. that the writer was passing down the main street, when a friend says:

"There's Sankey now, just getting out of that buggy." That was enough, and we hastened to the spot. Mr. Sankey was entering Dr. Youmans' Methodist church. At the door he was met by dozens of friends who all grasped "Iry's" hand and shook it warmly. "How are you, brother Jones?" and "Sister Smith, I'm glad to see you!" were ejeculated about twenty times by Mr. S., with variations. Once inside the portals of the church, Mr. Sankey was met by Mr. Cyrus Clark, Dr. Youmans and others, and conducted to the Sabbath school room. Here every seat was occupied. The children and their teachers were in force, while men and women were stowed about the room, occupying every spot where one could stand. It was the same in the halls and in the vestibule.

Mr. Sankey was conducted to the little platform in the room and took a seat, while his wife, who had been with him on his European tour, sat at one side. Here we had a good look at the Evangelist.

"And what is he like?" asks the reader. Well, he is a man weighing about two hundred and twenty pounds, and thirty-eight years old. Thoroughly English in appearance, and much more like a London or Dublin drummer for a cloth or linen house than what we have been taught to think should characterize

A MODERN EVANGELIST.

A round, full face; black mutton-chop whiskers and a moustache. His dress was light pantaloons, dark cloth frock coat and dark vest, and his collar the English "stand up," with the edges turned down at the corners. He crossed one leg over the other, planted his right elbow in his left hand, and placing his right over his face for a moment appeared to be engaged in silent prayer. The position he had taken he maintained until called on to speak.

After religious exercises, Mr. Reis, the Superintendent of the Sabbath School, introduced Mr. Sankey, who spoke as follows:

"My dearly beloved friends, I am heartily glad to see you. Two years ago, when I left here, I asked you to pray for me. I know that you did many a time, when thousands of miles from here, across God's beautiful ocean. I thought of you and of this spot. I thought of Mr. Clark, Mr. Norris, and many other dear friends in New Castle. I am going to pray for you—that you may all come to Jesus. You pray, too, for Jesus of Nazareth is passing through the land. We found this wherever we have been. Wherever there are Christian people, there are thousands asking what to do to be saved. Oh! let me caution you, that unbelief is the curse of the Church of God to-day.

LET US KNEEL AND PRAY.

All knelt, and Mr. Sankey offered up a prayer for the children, for the pastor, and for all the church.

The prayer concluded Mr. Sankey said: It was in this place I first learned to love Jesus. I have tried to love him and to work for him. Oh! how sad it was to see our names blazoned forth in the papers. We did not ask it—did not want it. It was sad indeed. We looked to Jesus for our reward. I ask all here to pray for dear brother Moody and myself. Thank you, my dear children for your attention.

Mr. Reis, the Superintendent of the school, then said: "We have Sister Sankey here too. Will Sister Sankey please stand up and let the children see her?"

Mrs. Sankey then stood up and the audience bent their eyes on her for a moment and she sat down again.

Mr. Sankey then stepped to the desk again and said:

"I would like to hear you sing that dear old hymn 'Jesus Loves Me,' that you sang so well before I went away."

The hymn was sung, all in the room standing, and then Mr. Reis closed the meeting with the long meter doxology and benediction.

OUR FIRST INTRODUCTION.

It was after the adjournment of the Sabbath school meeting that the press representatives present again endeavored to get an interview with Mr. Sankey. Mr. Cyrus Clark kindly volunteered to introduce us, and at a favorable opportunity the gentleman conducted us to the platform, just as Mr. Sankey had stepped down and was on his way to the church above.

"Mr. Sankey," said Mr. Clark, "allow me to introduce to you Mr. ——, of the Pittsburgh GAZETTE."

"A reporter!" ejaculated the Evangelist, as he took two steps backward and nearly fell over the platform. Recovering from the horrifying discovery, the gentleman shook hands with us quite heartily, but was speedy to say "I assure you, sir, it was nothing but the reporters that drove brother Moody and I out of New York."

The writer told Mr. Sankey that he regretted the drive, as New York, so far as he had been introduced, was a right lively kind of a place, and a good one in which to shake off the monotony of a ten days' imprisonment on board an ocean steamer. Mr. Sankey agreed with us, but evidently thought it inexcusable, if not positively unkind, to have reporters find his room door when he was asleep and awaking him throw their note books and pencils over the transom and ask him to write down his age, how he liked Europe, where he was going, and how long he expected to stay there. One energetic sort of a cuss wanted his opinion on ballooning, and if he thought Donaldson would turn up or not. It was annoying to the evangelist to have to get up out of bed and whisper through the key-hole that he was not an aeronaut.

Thinking for a moment that Brother Sankey was not to any extent lenient toward reporters, we allowed him to ascend to the church without further interference.

Mr. Sankey occupied a seat with his wife in the family pew and listened to an eloquent sermon by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Youmans.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

In the afternoon at three o'clock came the services in the Opera House. It had been intended to give Mr. S. a reception in the grove near the city, but the gentlemen managing the affair feared the rain and hence the change.

The Opera House is a good sized hall, over the market, and will seat comfortably probably fifteen hundred persons. Over two thousand, however, crowded themselves in on Sunday, notwithstanding the unpleasant rumor that the house was unsafe, and had been condemned by the Building Inspector of the town.

On the stage sat the ministers, Mr. Sankey, Mrs. Sankey, Mr. David Sankey, the father, Mrs. David Sankey, the mother, C. C. Sankey, the cousin, and a host of other Sankeys, all connections of "Iry's," as the New Castle people pronounce Ira.

The programme and particulars of the exercises here were furnished by telegraph in yesterday's GAZETTE, so with one or two observations we will dismiss the Opera House.

It was a noticeable feature that, notwithstanding the great audience present, there was an entire lack of enthusiasm. At no part of the ceremonies was there anything presented which created a ripple on the surface, until Dr. Youmans, is his address, alluded to the fact that neither Moody nor Sankey were ordained ministers of any church—nor did he deem that of much importance. They could preach the Gospel and without the endorsement of any church. The reverend gentleman doubted not that the time would soon come when the fog, as it were, that surrounds the Protestant churches would be lifted and all sects combine in praising God. He said that one Sabbath he preached a sermon in Dr. Junkins' Presbyterian church, and, after the services, a member said: "Why, Dr. Youmans, you preached a first rate orthodox Presbyterian sermon" So again, when Dr. Junkin preached in this church, he was told that he preached a No. 1 Methodist sermon. I wouldn't be surprised some day to learn of brother Junkin going about with a big bass fiddle and playing and singing the people nearer to heaven.

Rev. Dr. Audley Brown, the Temperance candidate for Governor, made a few remarks, together with others, but none of the addresses, either by Mr. Sankey or any one else, were out of the usual groove, save with the single exception noted.

The welcome over, Mr. Sankey appeared pleased that it was, and with his wife and father were soon en route to the latter's residence for dinner.

An effort to pursue Mr. Sankey on this trip proved futile and we gave it up. He disappeared over the bridge crossing the Neshannock and was lost to view.

A REPORTER'S ANXIETY.

Here was Sodom and Gomorrah for a reporter. We wanted to talk to him about scenes in England—the Hyde Park meetings, the little gathering at Warnock, the outpourings in Glasgow, Bristol, Birmingham, Belfast, Derry and—in a word, wherever they had visited, but it was of no use. "This day is the Lords," was Mr. Sankey's answer and he was court and jury on that.

Then it was that we took new means and measures to find out as much as possible about Mr. Sankey.

Passing up the main street we met Mr. R. M. Allen, one of the prominent citizens of the town, the agent for Adams Express Company; the owner or "most owner" of the Opera House, where Mr. Sankey was to appear. Mr. Allen said he knew nearly all the Sankey family; that Ira, like the rest, had always been a good boy. He was a Government inspector of liquors, oil, &c. at one time, but during his labors in that line was always a Sabbath school worker and active in the good cause.

BEFORE HE MET MOODY.

Then we learned some more, from other sources, about Mr. Sankey. He was a class leader in the Methodist church before he ever met Mr. Moody. John V. Farwell, the famous Chicago merchant, was largely instrumental in bringing the two men together. Mr. Sankey had traveled for a time with Philip Phillips, the well-known singing pilgrim, but the one he wanted with him was one who could preach Jesus while he sang the Bible truths. In Moody he "met his man," as Mr. Farwell is credited with saying, and they started away together. Their course, as well as their works, is well known after reaching Europe. From a little town where four persons were present at their prayer meeting to that great city of London, where audiences of fully twenty thousand have been held spell bound, and, as many believe, brought nearer to Jesus by the preaching of Moody and the singing of Sankey.

It was when Mr. Sankey was with Philip Phillips that Moody's eye fastened upon him as the kind of a man he needed to sing the gospel truths. Mr. Farwell, as we have stated, drew the men together, and thus formed that Godly co-partnership which, from all accounts has proved so successful.

THE FATHER OF THE EVANGELIST.

And David Sankey, the father of this wonderful boy—who is he? We met the old gentleman at the Opera House, but had no opportunity to converse with him until meeting him on the train yesterday morning, en-route to the camp meeting at Leetsdale. The old gentleman is not particularly talkative. He had been in our State Legislature from Lawrence county, and during that time perhaps, learned that the rule of addition, division and silence was a good one—the "silence" clause, as the writer thinks, being the only one, he hung to particularly.

"A fine boy, that of your's, Mr. Sankey," said the writer to the old gentleman.

"The papers make great mistakes about him."

"Indeed, sir; and how, please?"

"Oh, his age is given wrong and his business is not stated right and—but come down to Leetsdale, to-day, and hear him sing."

"Newspapers will make mistakes now and then," was our reply.

"Yes, I think so. The English papers gave as a reason for Ira's religious bent, that he was brought up in a very rigid family. In fact the writers said that I would not let the boys whistle on Sunday. Now, how could I know if the boys whistled on Sunday? One thing I never did let them do and that was to be out on the streets at night and to that end I attribute much of Ira's goodness."

Leetsdale was reached, and the Sankeys, father and son, together with Rev. Youmans, Mr. Reis, and some friends, left the train, and were driven to the camp ground.

"THERE'S NOTHING IN IT."

We inquired as to how Moody and Sankey supported themselves while in England, knowing that they had been persistent in refusing all presents of money or donations of any kind, and learned that the cash to carry them through their pilgrimage was furnished by friends in New Castle. All the presents that Mr. Sankey did accept was a musical box, sent him from Geneva, which, while in operation, played several of his most successful hymn tunes.

A New Castle friend, who knows the Sankeys, is surprised to learn that Ira made no money in Europe, and said: "Well, then he is an exception to all the rest of the Sankeys."

Many persons have asked Mr. Sankey to let them go along with them and assist them in their labors, but they have preferred to be alone. Only yesterday morning a young man on the train asked Mr. Sankey if he could not use him in some manner as "a frightful example of the results of intemperance," and offered to go to Europe or California for his expenses alone. The engagement was not made.

THE FUTURE—AN OPINION.

Mr. Ira D. Sankey has been married for twelve years. He is the father of two boys and one girl, the latest addition to the family having been born in Europe during the evangelizing tour.

He told the writer yesterday that after he got through at Leetsdale, he would hide himself in the woods somewhere, for two months, and rest. Then he and brother Moody are to meet in Washington City and commence the work of revival in the United States. Mr. S.'s fort is singing and Mr. Moody does the speaking and praying. Having heard Mr. S. sing several times, we can heartily endorse the following from the London Saturday Review: "The quality of Mr. Sankey's voice and his style of singing are questions of taste on which there will be great difference of opinion. There can be no doubt, however, that his art is of a tricky kind, and aims at producing effect by sudden alterations between high and low. His favorite note is one in the back of his throat, with which he pours forth a prolonged hollow O! O! O! something between a howl and a wail, which makes one think of a melodious coster-monger crying his cabbages. Whether it is pure art or not, it appears to be agreeable to the majority of the audience, and it may be thought that this is enough."

At Leetsdale.

It was a little after nine o'clock yesterday morning, as the train neared Leetsdale on the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad that a youth dressed in homespun, passed through the car in which Mr. Sankey, Rev. Youmans and friends were seated.

"Tickets to the camp meeting!" he shouted, "tickets to the camp meeting!"

The Rev. Youmans was delving for his pocket book when a friend suggested that he and Mr. Sankey and friend should "go in on the profession." Dr. Youmans laughed, thought the speaker was right, and down that pocket book went, as the ticket speculator gazed spitefully on the man who had interfered with his business.

Leetsdale is reached. There is no reception committee at the depot. Quietly Mr. Sankey and his friends tumble from the train, and stepping into an ambulance or something of that sort, are rolling over the road and toward the camp before the conductor says "all aboard" for the tenth time since leaving New Castle. John F. Dravo, Esq., joined the Evangelist's party and soon the two miles between the railroad and the camp were accomplished. Introductions, of course, were first in order, and then Mr. Sankey got a little rest.

At the afternoon service the distinguished stranger was introduced to the congregation by Dr. S. H. Nesbit before the services commenced.

THE EVANGELIST IS SAD.

Mr. Sankey made a short but very affecting address, perhaps ten minutes long, which was most attentively listened to by the congregation. He began by saying that he had felt sad all the way to the grounds. He was afraid, he said, that many were there to see a man, and not to commune with Jesus. This thought had troubled him seriously. He then made a very touching allusion to the conversion of his sister, since deceased, which occurred on these grounds two years ago, and spoke very pathetically of the impressions which the scene made upon him.

In this part of his address Mr. Sankey seemed much moved, and all in the congregation were much affected. It would be needlees to attempt to reproduce this portion of his remarks. When Mr. Sankey had finished speaking he sang, by request, "Ninety and Nine," which had been one of his New Castle selections. The meeting soon after concluded and a little later Mr. Sankey and his friends were steaming back to New Castle.

At the morning service Mr. Sankey sang "Almost Persuaded" with good effect.

There were about three thousand persons on the ground and the best of good feeling prevailed. The camp will be discontinued after Thursday evening.

CRIME IN THE CITY.

Brief Mention of Petty Criminalities.

MARY MCCALL charged William McCalister with assault and battery before Alderman Thomas yesterday. A warrant was issued.

YESTERDAY Detective Messner arrested Joe Crawford, on suspicion of having stolen a lot of bricklayers' tools, which he had pawned for ninety cents. Crawford was committed for a hearing.

EDWARD HENRY was charged by Willis Dangerfield before Alderman Thomas, yesterday, with surety of the peace. Dangerfield alleges that Henry assaulted him and threatened to do him great bodily injury. Warrant issued.

YESTERDAY Emma Yaw made an information before Alderman Butler, charging Mary C. Price with larceny by bailee. The allegations are that informant loaned defendant a gold chain, and she now refuses to return it. The hearing was adjourned till this afternoon.

YESTERDAY there was a hearing before Deputy Mayor Hoerr, of the South Side, in the case of Charles Blank, who was charged with false pretences in securing two judgment notes for one, as previously reported, from Wm. Lipps. The evidence was sufficient to justify the Deputy in holding the defendant to bail for Court.

YESTERDAY morning Mrs. Ellen Roach called on Mayor McCarthy and asked official aid in rescuing her daughter from a house of ill fame. The girl, although married and now Mrs. Ellen Davis, was only seventeen, and, as she told her mother, had had gone to the house in question as a washerwoman. The Mayor sent an officer after the unfortunate girl, but the proprietress had got wind of the matter and sent the girl adrift. An officer met her afterward, but she positively refused to go home to her mother. She was "married with her mother's consent," she said, and meant to figure for herself.

YESTERDAY morning Alderman Post, of Sharpsburg, committed Emmett Swartzwelder to jail to answer a charge made by Wm. Davis, of making and passing counterfeit five cent nickels. The State Courts, it appears, has concurrent jurisdiction in cases of this kind, with the United States Courts. The defendant will be tried in the Criminal Court shortly after the inauguration of the September session. District Attorney Reed is authority for the statement that the prosecution of offenders for counterfeiting coin is clearly the business of Uncle Sam, and that the case of the young man, whose arrest is here referred to, will be attended to in due time. The State Courts have concurrent jurisdiction in cases of the counterfeiting of currency, but not in cases where bogus coin is manufactured and passed.

THE COMING RACES.

A Visit to Henry Coulter.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

On yesterday we paid a visit to the beautiful little hamlet of Manchester, which for all the world looks like Greenwich in England, only lacking the "tea houses," and spent a pleasant time with Henry Coulter and his estimable lady. As Coulter's name is in every one's mouth at present in relation to his forthcoming race with Eph Morris for the championship of America, what he said and done we will speak of for the benefit of the readers of the GAZETTE. His exercises consist of walking, using the dumb bell, and rowing, all of which is beginning to tell on him for he is bronzed by the sun, and is loosing flesh very fast, bringing himself down to his rowing weight, which will be 160 pounds. In our conversation he maintained that Morris was the best man rowing at present, and that the race would be very close, no matter who won it. On Wednesday next he leaves for the upper Allegheny to remain until the race is over, which comes off on the 11th of September. A great many friends visited Coulter's cosy little residence on yesterday, and all must have been delighted with his modesty if nothing else—although he gratified his visitors by showing them what he can do in a boat. Weighing at present about 180, when stripped he looks like a bar of iron, and the way he handled the oars excited the admiration of those present. The battle is not always to the strong however, and even Coulter may slip up before the day of the race, but whichever is the victor will have a hard row to hoe and our wish is, may the best man win.

Western University opens Sept. 6th. Office hours 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. 15t.

HENDERSON STREET.

The Mayor Approves the Ordinance for the Relief of the Property Owners.

We were in error yesterday in stating that Mayor Phillips had vetoed the ordinance for the relief of the property owners on Henderson street. He approved the ordinance—which appropriates $9,000 to the payment of the assessments for the stone wall and grading on the street. The Mayor gives his reasons at length. The substance of the Mayor's views is given in the following paragraphs:

On the 14th day of May, A. D. 1868, an ordinance was passed for the grading of Henderson street. Under that ordinance the street was graded to the satisfaction of the city officers—the grading assessments were made and were paid in full by the property owners; subsequently, on the 14th day of May, A. D., 1874, an ordinance in the usual form was passed for the grading and paving of Fairmount or Henderson street.

"There is no question I believe but that the cost of grading a street cannot be assessed upon the property owners a second time, (see section 6th of street law passed in 1870), and therefore, I am of the opinion that this last ordinance was invalid so far as it authorized the grading of that street to be assessed and collected in the usual way.

"It was valid only as to assessments for cost of paving. But the stone wall of which so much complaint is made, and from the cost of which this ordinance seeks to relieve the property owners, takes the place for the most part as I learn of a former wall which was erected either by individuals or the city to hold up the street when graded, and at all events its purpose now is to sustain the streets at its present grade, being certainly no necessary or proper part of the paving as such, and therefore chargeable as an item of the cost of paving. But if, as I have said, the city cannot under that second ordinance, assess a second time the cost of regrading Fairmount street, it follows that the cost of this wall must be borne by the city, if as I believe it is legitimately and properly an item in the grading and not in the paving of the street. It is true the points here presented involve both questions of law and fact from the decision of which I would willingly be relieved, but the ordinance is before me for approval or disapproval, and in making my decision these points must be determined to the best of my judgment, and I am happy to find that my conclusions as to the validity of the law harmonize with what I cannot but believe to the justice and equity of the case."

"The record shows that all the property owners but three (whose signatures could not be obtained in time) remonstrated against the passage of the ordinance for paving this street. Granting then that the public necessities required nevertheless that it should be paved, it would be a most intolerable hardship that the property (in some instance as I am informed, the homes and little all) of the unfortunate ones, should be confiscated to supply the public want. Should not the public pay for what the public wants? If I am mistaken, however, in my view of the law, and the ordinance is as claimed unconstitutional and invalid, I am happy in knowing that my conclusions are not final, but may be revised by those whose duty it is, as it is not mine, to know the law."

The decision of the Mayor and his argument will be read with interest by all property holders, as there are some interesting questions involved.

AMERICAN HEBREW CONGREGATIONS.

Meeting of the Executive Board at Cincinnati.

The Executive Board of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations held a meeting in Cincinnati on Sunday, President M. Loth in the chair and Lipman Levy, Esq., Secretary. Present—Messrs. Julius Freiberg, Philip Heidelbach, Bernard Bettman, Adam A. Kramer and Solomon Levi. Letters were read from Messrs. Simon Heavenrich, of Detroit, Michigan, Lewis F. Deinbitz, of Louisville, Kentucky, and B. A. Hineman, of Kansas City, Missouri, regretting their inability to be present at the meeting. The bond of the Treasurer, Solomon Levi, Esq., for $20,000, was approved. The bond of Lipman Levi, Esq., Secretary, for $5,000, was also approved. Orders for $421.51, for printing and sundry bills, were ordered to be drawn. The Treasurer reported that he had bought one thousand dollars worth of five-twenty bonds. The action was approved and an order for $1,205 to pay the same was ordered.

The Secretary reported that the congregation of Victoria, Texas, had joined the Union.

On motion of Mr. Heidelbach the President and Secretary were authorized to buy five hundred copies of Leezer's English Bible whenever they deemed the purchase necessary, and which are to be sold at one dollar a copy to all persons except to those who wish to purchase with a view of selling them at a profit. Adopted.

Mr. Adam A. Kramer, Secretary of the Board of Governors, officially reported that the Hebrew Union College would be opened during the first week of October, in the Temple corner Mound and Eighth streets, and that twelve applications have already been received.

Mr. Bernard Bettman, in behalf of the Executive Board, presented to the President, with eloquent remarks, the following artistically engrossed resolutions, elegantly framed.

"This certifies that the Council of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, at its second annual session held in the city of Buffalo, New York, on the 15th day of July, 5635—1875—unanimously adopted the following:

"Resolved, That the thanks of this Union are sincerely tendered to Moritz Loth, Esq., President of the First Council, and of the Executive Board, for his untiring zeal and generous and disinterested services in the cause of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, and for the fearless and impartial manner in which he has so nobly discharged the duties of his office.

"Resolved, That the foregoing be entered on the minutes of the Council, and a copy thereof be engrossed and presented to Moritz Loth, Esq.

"JOSIAH COHEN, Prest."
"LIPMAN LEVY, Sec'y.

The recipient responded appropriately in a very feeling manner, after which the meeting adjourned.

A BOILER EXPLOSION.

Fatal Accident on the South Side—Painter & Son's Mills the Scene—One Man Killed and Others Seriously Injured.

The iron mill of Painter & Sons, in the Thirty-fourth ward, South Side, was the scene of a fatal accident yesterday morning. As developed at an inquest held last evening on the body of George Beynon, the following facts were established. At four o'clock A. M., Mr. Beynon, who was an engineer, visited the works for the purpose of seeing that the engines were working all right. In making an examination he found that the pumps were not working correctly, and sent for Mr. Reams, the chief engineer. Together, the two examined the machinery, and soon they had all working satisfactorily. Mr. Reams then went to his breakfast. While seated at the table his wife called his attention to an unusual noise at the mill, and going to the door he noticed the building was in a cloud of smoke and steam. Hastening thither as speedily as possible Mr. Reams learned that one of the battery of boilers had bursted, and that several men were injured. A search of the vicinity of the boilers was immediately made, and Beynon was found lying on the ground and suffering severely. He was immediately picked up, taken to his home and a physician called, the injured man making the request for medical services himself. Doctors Stephenson and Graham responded, but their efforts proved unavailing, and poor Beynon lingered but a few hours and then died. Alderman McMasters, the Coroner being engaged elsewhere, held an inquest on the remains, and the jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts. The deceased was only twent-eight years of age and leaves a young wife, but no children, to mourn his loss.

James Fisher, the fireman at the mill, was severely scalded with steam, but is pronounced out of danger. No others were injured.

To-day, Boiler Inspector Russell will inquire into the cause of the accident. He says that when last inspected, some months ago, the boilers were all right.

The damage to the mill property is not extensive, being confined to the displacement of the battery of boilers and the destruction of one side of the building. An alarm of fire from box 117 called the department of the district to the scene and the members speedily subdued what little fire had been created by the explosion.

LATER.

Since the above was written, Fisher, the fireman, has died. The Coroner did not deem another inquest necessary, so a death certificate was signed.

Warm and clear. The river is on a stand; seven feet two inches in canal and five feet two inches on falls. Arrived—Arkansas and tow, Cairo; Fawn, Evansville; Parker, Memphis; Church, Cincinnati; Tom Means and tow, St. Louis. Departed—Arkansas and tow, Pittsburgh; Alice, Fawn and Parker, Cincinnati; Means and tow and Church, New Orleans.

MEMPHIS, August 23, 1875.

The rapid decline of the river has relieved the overflowed cotton above here, and some of the planters whose cotton was in water say they will make two-thirds of a crop if the season is propitious, and the damage to the plant is comparatively light. The river fell fifteen inches; total decline 30 inches. Clear and warm. Departed—Belle Memphis, St. Louis; City of Vicksburg, Vicksburg.

ADDITIONAL MARKETS.

The Price Current estimates the sugar crop for 1874 and 1875 at 1,168,607 hhds, against 894,908 last year. Molasses, 11,516,828 hhds; the growing crop is expected to exceed last year's. The rice crop of 1874 and 1875 will be 104,963 bbls; the prospect of maturing crop is favorable, and considerable increase is expected.

A Verdict in Accordance with Proofs.

The verdict of the public in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters differs from some that might be mentioned, in being in strict accordance with the proofs repeatedly adduced in support of the claims of America's most popular remedy. It may well be doubted if there was ever a medicine in substantiation of whose merits such a mass of unsolicited testimony has accumulated. An examination of this testimony establishes a fact of the last importance to the sick and debilitated, as well as those who are exposed to unfavorable influences of climate—namely, that the Bitters are an unequaled tonic, an active and thorough specific for every disorder of the digestive, biliary and excretory organs, a reliable means of regulating the discharge of the most important functions of the body, and a supreme protective against intermittent and remittent fevers, and all other diseases to which malaria gives birth.
